BURMA ARMIES FACING THREAT OF DISASTER

Rapid Japanese Advance Splits Defending Forces, Cuts Road to China.

By The Associated Press

British and Chinese defenders of Burma, gravely threatened with entrapment, were reported to have lost contact today as Japanese mechanized columns drove to Lashio, the gateway to China, after a 170-mile advance in four days.

With the invaders at Lashio, 135 miles northeast of Mandalay on the Burma road, Chinese quarters at Chungking agreed the situation was extremely grave.

Advices from the front, however, declared Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, hard-bitten American commander of the Chinese forces in Burma, was determined to contest every foot of ground and military circles expressed belief he would be favored by the increasingly rough terrain which lies ahead of the Japanese.

One bright sight to the picture was provided by the announcement that the "flying tigers" of the American volunteer group had scored a smashing new victory over the Japanese air force, shooting down 22 of 24 planes which attempted to raid Loiwing on the Yunnan-Burma border.

The Chinese central news said the remaining two Japanese planes had been damaged and probably failed to reach their bases. The AVG did not lose a single plane in the combat, it was said.

Loiwing is the site of one of China's few warplane factories. The town also is known as Pawleyville.

In penetrating to Lashio, the Japanese accomplished a northward advance of approximately 170 miles from Lolem in four days.

Another Japanese column was reported to be approaching Hsipaw, 40 miles southwest of Lashio.

Lashio is the point at which the railroad running north from Rangoon via Mandalay connects with the Burma road.

The situation on the west flank of the Burma front apparently remained unchanged. Last reports indicated British and Chinese troops were attempting to hold positions north of Chauk, which is situated on the Irrawaddy river about 100 miles southwest of Mandalay.

New Lashio was described as the center of fighting.

A Chinese army spokesman said most of the lend-lease supplies which had piled up at Lashio awaiting truck shipment had been moved on. The remainder, he said, was destroyed to prevent its seizure by the invaders.

With the British and Chinese defenders divided the British

TIRE ALLOTMENTS ARE SET FOR MAY

Figures Listed for Marion Co. and Vicinity.

Marion county has been granted 23 passenger tires and 83 truck tires for May, the Associated Press reported from Columbus today.

In addition the county has been allotted 439 passenger car and 132 truck and bus tire retread permits and 230 passenger car and 114 truck and bus tubes.

H. T. Beckman, state rationing administrator, said new tires to be available next month have been reduced considerably as compared with April but tube and retread quotas have been increased proportionately.

Figures for other counties in the Marion area follow:

Crawford county: 11 tires, 311 retreads and 164 tubes for passenger cars; 72 tires, 116 retreads and 100 tubes for trucks and busses.

Delaware: 13 tires, 63 retreads and 38 tubes for passenger cars; 51 tires, 96 retreads and 85 tubes for trucks and busses.

Hardin: 14 tires, 74 retreads and 44 tubes for passenger cars; 65 tires, 103 retreads and 89 tubes for trucks and busses.

Morrow: 7 tires, 83 retreads and 45 tubes for passenger cars; 32 tires, 51 retreads and 44 tubes for trucks and busses.

Union: 9 tires, 43 retreads and 26 tubes for passenger cars; 42 tires, 83 retreads and 62 tubes for trucks and busses.

Wyandot: 11 tires, 59 retreads and 35 tubes for passenger cars; 95 tires, 88 retreads and 78 tubes for trucks and busses.

Leaders in City's War Bond Victory Pledge Campaign

Above is the group directing plans for Marion city's war bond pledge campaign, photographed at a recent meeting in Hotel Harding. In the back row, left to right, are W. E. Orcutt, Fourth ward chairman; Elmer J. Schoenlaub, county chairman of the War Savings staff; R. D. Luke, Second ward chairman; Clarence Shockney, First Ward chairman; Jay Newell, Sixth ward chairman; C. E. Danner, Fifth ward chairman; A. T. Allen, Third ward chairman. In the front row, left to right, are Mrs. Virgil F. Dye, one of the group of women helping workers; Miss Maud Gorham, head of the women's dvision of the county War Savings Staff; Mrs. Eugene B. Willey, head of the canteen workers who are helping with the drive; Harold J. Grigsby, president of Kiwanis club which is organizing the city drive, and Dr. Harry L. Bell, Kiwanis club citizenship chairman who is heading the campaign. The Kiwanis club is furnishing ward and precinct chairmen, the women's organizations are providing enough workers to make house-to-house calls on May 8, 9 and 10.

NAZIS PUT OUT PEACE FEELERS

Berlin Reported To Have Made Three Offers to Britain Since March.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 30 — Germany is declared by the independent French news agency AFI to have proposed peace to Britain three times since mid-March, basing this spring offensive upon a nine-page Goering memorandum which would give the third reich undisputed mastery of continental Europe.

Freedom for concentration of Nazi forces on the Russian front—ending of allied aerial blows and the threat of new land action in the west—was the reported aim of Adolf Hitler's government.

British officials disclaimed knowledge of any such overtures and, although newspapers freely discussed a possibility that Italy would drop out of the war, there was no authoritative disposition to place much stock in rumors about axis peace feelers.

Moreover, the AFI, affiliated with Gen. Charles De Gaulle's Free French government, reported details without qualification in a dispatch last night. It said the three proposals were routed through Turkey, Switzerland and Sweden; that all were similar.

The agency said the memorandum provided that Germany would control the continent, annex "living space" from Russia and control virtually all the French, Dutch and Belgian colonial possessions.

If the allied powers accepted these conditions, it said, Germany would undertake:

1. To recognize the British empire in its present form.

2. To recognize "control" of Latin America by the United States "both in political and economic spheres."

3. To collaborate in setting up a trade system among the three resultant "empires."

The last paragraph was reported to have referred to assistance which Germany would be prepared to give the allies so that they might "drive Japan back to her natural limits."

Attribution of the peace memorandum to Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering recalled the Rudolf Hess incident on May 10, 1941. Goering is Hitler's chief deputy. Hess, still a British prisoner after capture when he flew to Scotland, was the fuehrer's deputy for Nazi party affairs.

CITY CLERK RESIGNS, NAMED PATROLMAN

Lew Shadaker Appointed to Police Job Starting May 5.

Appointment of City Clerk Lew W. Shadaker of 226 Bain avenue to the city police department as a patrolman was announced today by Safety-Service Director Clyde C. Caldwell.

Mr. Shadaker probably will begin work on May 5, or as soon as his successor is named.

His formal resignation will be presented to city council at a special meeting tonight. Mr. Shadaker has served as city clerk and as clerk to the mayor for the last 15 months.

His appointment fills a vacancy created by the resignation of Patrolman Lewis Cunningham of 683 Bellefontaine avenue who is now in the employ of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. Mr. Shadaker's name had been on the eligibility list submitted to the safety-service director by the civil service commission. He took the examination for patrolman some time ago.

War Savings Staff Plans To Extend Payroll Deduction Plan Among County's 700 Employers.

As preparations for the war bond pledge campaign in Marion city and county went forward today, the county War Savings Staff announced plans for a drive among the county's employers to extend the payroll-deduction plan of systematic war bond purchases.

Plans for this new phase of the all-out drive in the interests of the war bond sales program were outlined at a meeting yesterday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce office. It was attended by the county War Savings Staff committee and was in charge of Elmer J. Schoenlaub, county chairman.

700 Employers Listed

The committee has compiled a list of approximately 700 individuals and concerns in the county that employ three or more persons, and will arrange for personal contacts with each of these to encourage use of the payroll bond purchase plan.

Every employer who has 90 per cent or more of his workers cooperating in a payroll bond purchase plan will be given a certificate issued by the county committee and permission to display the treasury department's "Minute Man" flag.

This drive will get under way gradually yet this week with the work divided among the members of the county War Savings Staff and their assistants. Members at the meeting yesterday were F. E. Guthery, Cutler A. McGrew, Rev. Father William J. Spickerman, John Zuck, City Safety-Service Director Clyde C. Caldwell, Robert Mason, Dr. C. W. Sawyer, Earl T. Smart, T. E. Kinnear, Dr. F. R. Mann, Miss Maud Gorham, W. J. Pierce, C. E. Sechrist, Robert E. White and Louis E. Michel.

List Among Pledges

In connection with this campaign, its leaders pointed out that all payroll deductions should be listed in the pledges for future purchases when the house-to-house campaign is made in Marion on May 8, 9 and 10.

Preparations for the house-to-house campaign are nearing the final stages. Kiwanis club members who are heading the city phase of the pledge drive were busy today setting up the number of workers they will need in each precinct when the drive begins a week from tomorrow. Final assignment of women workers to each precinct is expected at a group of six simultaneous meetings Sunday afternoon, each ward organization meeting separately.

Meanwhile, the county phase of the dive was being set up by A. J. Loudenslager, rural chairman, and his committee which will hold a meeting tomorrow night at the Chamber office to set their campaign dates and make plans for contacting each farm family in the county.

U. S. GENERAL KILLED IN AUSTRALIA CRASH

Life and Time Correspondent Also Victim in Accident.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, AUSTRALIA, April 30 — The death in an airplane crash of Brig. Gen. Harold H. George of the United States army air force was announced today by allied headquarters.

Also killed in the crash was Melville Jacoby, Time and Life magazine correspondent who came to Australia from Bataan last month with his wife after living with the beleaguered U. S. and Filipino forces defending the peninsula against the Japanese invaders.

One of the brilliant staff of officers who served with General Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines, Brig. Gen. George accompanied MacArthur to Australia in his epic journey last month from Bataan peninsula.

His distinguished service in the Philippines gained him his promotion to brigadier general last January.

He entered the army as a member of the New York national guard in 1916 during the Mexican border crisis.

The airplane accident occurred late Monday but details were withheld.

War Production Slogan Contest Held at Factory

Winners of a war production slogan contest conducted this week by the Universal Cooler Corp. among its employes were announced today by company officials.

The winners and their slogans are as follows:

First, Mrs. Bernice Layman, employed on the assembly line, "To Win in the Trenches—Work Hard At Your Benches"; Second, Mrs. Lillian Northcutt, employed in the machine shop, "Busy Hands Over Here Will Help Us Win Over There"; third, Charles Ray Miller of the shipping department, "Make Production Hum for Each Boy Behind a Gun"; fourth, Mr. Miller, "Let's Do Our Share to Keep Old Glory in the Air"; fifth, Miss Kathryn Burke of the accounting department, "End War Forever With Universal Endeavor."

The contest was suggested by the war production board and copies of the winning slogans will be forwarded to the board in Washington.

About 25 employes participated.

The winning slogans will appear on an illuminated announcement board inside the entrance to the plant.

48-HOUR WEEK BILL IS TABLED

House Committee Delays Action on Measure by Vote of 12 to 13.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30—By a single vote margin, the house naval committee tabled today a measure to limit war profits, lift the statutory work week limit from 40 to 48 hours and freeze the status quo of closed and open shops for the duration of the war.

The vote was 13 to 12, and came shortly after Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) told the members that "the American people are going to have something to say about this racketeering in war plants and in labor unions in every congressional district in the nation in the November elections."

The action, climax of two months of stormy hearings on the profits-labor issue, backed up President Roosevelt's message to congress earlier this week that no labor legislation was necessary at this time.

Simultaneously, it left the question of limiting war profits up to the ways and means committee, now studying the Chief Executive's suggestion for a $25,000 ceiling on individual incomes after payment of taxes, along with other proposals for sharp increases in the excess profits levy.

MIDNIGHT TORNADO KILLS 12 IN KANSAS

By The Associated Press

OBERLIN, Kas., April 30—A midnight tornado ripped through southern Decatur county today killing 12 persons and injuring 13 others severely.

Two entire families were wiped out by the storm which slashed through a farming area south of Oberlin. A four-year-old boy, blown away, had not been found by rescuers hours later.

The city, itself, escaped damage.

The furious blast carried away livestock and levelled farm buildings through an area half mile wide.

One of the victims, Mrs. Dale Paddock, was found on a creek bank, her head and shoulders driven into the ground by the twister. Her son vanished, her husband, the third member of the family was killed also.

POLICE WORKING ON CHILD ATTACK CASE

Virtually Entire Force Seeking Clues, Chief Reports.

Police Chief Marks said today all possible effort is being made by the police department to obtain information concerning the man who attacked a 4-year-old East Side girl the night of April 22 after luring her with a bicycle ride.

He said he, all captains and patrolmen had been working on the case. Many persons, he stated, had been questioned in connection with it, but as yet no developments could be reported.

Police are checking all possible angles, he announced. All persons having information in connection with the attack, or those merely thinking they may possess helpful information, were requested by Chief Marks to report their information to the police department. He said police would be glad to take the time to hear such information and to follow it up.

War Plant Construction Force Peak Set at 8,000 to 10,000

Army Official Recommends Dormitories and Government Trailers To Help House Workers.

Employment for construction of the Scioto Ordnance Plant is expected to reach a peak of between 8,000 and 10,000 persons this summer, plant officials announced today as they took steps to provide housing facilities for workers who will be unable to find rooms in private homes.

Lt. Col. John Huling Jr., commanding officer, said the peak employment estimate was made recently by Capt. Robert Lockridge, area engineer, along with several recommendations for handling the housing problem.

Principal recommendations of Capt. Lockridge are:

Construction of three dormitories on the site, each capable of housing 240 workers.

Establishment of a trailer camp to accommodate privately-owned automobile trailers.

Development of a trailer camp equipped with 400 expandable type trailers for rent to workers. These would be set up by the government.

The recommendation for dormitories on the camp site was made on the assumption that the "visible housing facilities" in Marion plus the proposed trailer camps would not be sufficient to meet the demand.

Original plans for the ordnance plant called for construction of some dormitory-type buildings, but these were to be used as temporary offices during construction and not made available as living quarters until operation of the plant had been started.

Meeting Requested

Meanwhile, Col. Huling awaited developments in Washington in answer to his request for a meeting of himself and Mayor Snare with the proper government authorities to have Marion placed in a defense critical area, a designation that would clear priorities problems now holding up construction or remodeling work.

Following up his original request for quick action on the application to give Marion defense housing ratings, Col. Huling said he was informed that many areas are deluging government agencies with similar requests, and that Marion's case will be taken in turn. It was pointed out that some 60 projects comparable to the Scioto Ordance Plant are under way for the ordnance department alone, and that housing and priority ratings are presenting serious problems in connection with many of them.

Private Projects Waiting

Another complication in the housing problem is that proposed privately-financed housing projects already announced which would provide around 200 new homes in Marion are being held up until priorities problems are cleared. Even if the way were cleared soon for starting these houses, it is not likely many of them would be completed in time to help relieve the housing problem created by the peak employment of construction workers.

Electric Power Provision Made

The Scioto Ordance Plant has completed negotiations with the Marion-Reserve Power Co. for furnishing electric power, Lt. Col. John Huling Jr., commanding officer, announced today.

A new line will be built to the plant area by the company, and the cost will be covered by means of a connection charge to be paid by the government.

Existing lines on the plant site are being left in place wherever possible to provide power for buildings that have been taken over for use by the ordnance plant builders and these lines also will be used for temporary power during the construction period.

Rates for power are in line with those for other industrial users in the area and have been approved by the army, Col. Huling said. The rates are set up on a sliding scale depending upon consumption.

LANDLORDS TO LIST ALL RENTED HOUSES

Rulings Issued for House Owners in Defense Areas.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30 — Ohio landlords in the defense rental area towns soon will be required to register their dwellings, and the entire state will be brought under federal control if necessary to prevent spiraling rents, Price Administrator Leon Henderson said today.

Owners must register with a local rent administrator houses, apartments, trailers and all other property rented for living quarters, Henderson said.

Regulations will be issued later for hotels, rooming houses and boarding houses in the areas.

Henderson expressed belief that rent control in defense areas would tend to keep rents "reasonable" in other portions of the state but declared the control program would be extended to cover all of Ohio if an upward trend developed.

OPA field representatives will watch rents in non-defense areas during the next 60 days as well as those in controlled areas, he added.

Fourteen defense rental areas were created in Ohio yesterday in addition to four previously designated. Most rents were frozen as of last March 1, although April 1 and July 1, 1941 were specified for others.

Regulations prohibit landlords from eliminating services provided tenants before the freezing order date but owners may petition for rent advances in event of marked increase in services or capital improvements.

MAYOR AWAITING MARION'S INSTRUCTIONS

Mayor Russell C. Snare said this morning he had received no further instructions as to procedure in setting up Marion county as a defense rental area. He received a telegram yesterday from Price Administrator Leon Henderson officially notifying him of Marion county's designation as a defense rental area. He said he expected instructions within the next few days.

WAR PLANT PROJECT ON COUNCIL PROGRAM

Sewage System Ordinance To Be Presented Tonight.

Mayor Russell C. Snare announced this morning that a special session of city council has been called for 7:30 tonight to consider an ordinance authorizing the safety-service director to enter into a sewer installation contract with the government.

The ordinance would permit army engineers to tap into the present sewer system with an installation for the Scioto Ordnance Plant. The new installation, a force sewage system, would join Marion's present system somewhere in the vicinity of Jefferson street at the north end.

Assistant City Solicitor Russell Wilhelm said he has been consulting with army engineers and ordnance plant officials during the past week in an effort to get the proposed ordinance in shape. He said negotiations had not progressed sufficiently to allow presentation of the ordinance at last Monday night's council meeting.

Lionel Mantell, associate attorney for the war department, and J. Z. Burgin, resident partner for the firm of Holabird & Root, will be present at tonight's meeting.

GIGANTIC AIR BATTLE RAGES OVER CHANNEL

Fight Today Follows Smashing Moonlight Attack on French Region.

By The Associated Press

British and German warplanes clashed in a gigantic air battle 25,000 feet over the German-occupied French "invasion coast" today following overnight assaults in which RAF bombers violently attacked German war foundries in Paris.

Watchers on the English coast said vapor trails of dogfights streaked the skies above Cap Gris Nez and Boulogne and that heavy explosions thundered across Dover strait in the afternoon.

Meanwhile, London heard unconfirmed reports that Germany had offered a "Nazi peace" to England three times since mid-March.

Simultaneously, a Tokyo broadcast quoted well-informed circles in Berlin as saying that Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini would meet in a few days.

The news agency AFI, affiliated with Gen. Charles De Gaulle's Free French government, said the German peace offers were based on a nine-page memorandum by Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering which would give the third reich undisputed mastery of continental Europe.

Both President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill have scorned any suggestion of negotiations with the Nazis, described by Churchill as "the guilty men who have let hell loose upon the world."

A Vichy broadcast said 32 persons were killed and 100 injured in one section in the RAF's heavy new assault on Paris—the fifth attack on the German-occupied French capital in less than two months.

Many Homes Destroyed

It was the eighth successive night of a big-scale raids against the continent.

Striking in bright moonlight, the British bombardiers rained their explosives chiefly on the Gnome-Rhone Aero Works at Gennevilliers, on the Seine, 10 miles from the heart of Paris, which the British described as producing warplane engines for Germany.

London reports termed the assault "extremely heavy."

The Goodrich factory in Paris also was blasted by the RAF raiders.

(The Goodrich plant was a subsidiary of the B. F. Goodrich Co., of America but operated as a French concern with French officers and was completely written off as a loss by the parent company last year. When Paris fell in June, 1940, the factory was manufacturing tires and mechanical rubber goods. No Goodrich representative has been there since.)

The factory, which the British say is producing warplane engines for Germany was raided for the first time the night of April 8. Last night's assault was the fifth on factories in the Paris area in less than two months.

Other British air formations attacked German airdromes in occupied territory.

Nazis Strike Back

The Nazi air force lashed back with a short but sharp over-night assault on Norwich, in East Anglia, which a communique said had caused casualties and damage—mostly in residential and shopping areas.

The Berlin radio said the raid on Norwich, which also was bombed Monday night, was a reprisal for attacks upon German towns.

London, meanwhile, was stirred by reports from Stockholm which quoted Berlin sources as saying that United States fighter planes now were participating in the defense of Malta, Britain's vital Mediterranean island base.

The Berlin sources did not specify how the American planes had reached Malta, but suggested they might have come from an aircraft carrier.

Meanwhile, Stockholm dispatches said the RAF's smashing raids Monday and Tuesday nights against the German battleship hide-out at Trondheim, Norway, had caused a mass exodus of the city's inhabitants.

These reports said the evacuation had been so great that German authorities posted notices

Marine Corps Recruit Honored at Parties

John Loyer of 412 Blaine avenue, who left Monday for service with the U. S. Marine corps, was honored by a group of relatives and friends Sunday at his home. Open house was observed. Mr. Loyer, who will be stationed for the present at Parris Island, S. C., is the son of Mrs. Bessie Loyer of Blaine avenue and the late John C. Loyer. He has been employed as a brakeman with the Erie Railroad Co. He received a number of remembrances.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Clark entertained with a supper honoring Mr. Loyer on Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Portupillo of Hudson court. He was presented a gift by the guests. Present with Mr. Loyer were Angie, Rosemary and Katryn Jones, Gene Anderson, Nick Cafagno, Michal Portupillo, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Portupillo and the hosts. Later the group made up a bowling party at the Palace Recreation alleys.

VIEW OF TWISTER'S APPROACH

This graphic picture of the approach of a tornado which swept through eastern Oklahoma was made in the back yard of a home on the outskirts of Pryor, Okla., where the state highway patrol estimated the heaviest death toll. Just a moment later, the sudden savage twister ripped the main street of Pryor into ruins.

SALES TAX YIELD FOR MARION AREA LISTED

Figures for County Show 1942 Gain to Date.

SAFETY WITH GATE

If baby has no dog pen, buy an expanding gate to stretch across one section of the yard. Let baby romp in safety. He will have lots of room to play safely. He will have lots of room to move about and you can go on with your work assured that he is out of danger.

A scientist at Yonkers, N. Y., has invented a chemical compound to stop the vapors which, when released in greenhouses, have caused certain plants to produce black seeds.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE DATA BEING COMPILED

Students Suggestions To Aid in Future Programs.

Suggestions for the 1943 vocational guidance conference, gathered from pupils and speakers at yesterday's conference, will be studied and in many cases will prove valuable in planning future guidance programs, Supt. E. E Holt said today.

Speakers at the various group sessions were "enthusiastic without exception" in evaluating the conference when they met with the vocational guidance council for luncheon yesterday noon at Hotel Harding, according to the superintendent.

A report of the luncheon meeting was taken in shorthand and when transcribed will be summarized. The luncheon was given by the sponsors of the conference.

At three group sessions the speakers were unable to be present because of unexpected business interruptions and these vacancies were filled by teachers. In the domestic service group the speaker could not attend and the vacancy was filled by Miss Ruth Kleinmaier, home service director for the Marion-Reserve Power Co.

BIRTHS

A daughter, Marilyn Sue, was born at Saint Anne hospital, Dayton, to Mr and Mrs. Cecil Palmer, former residents of Claridon, April 27.

Mr and Mrs John McIntire of 349½ Windsor street are parents of a daughter born Tuesday night at City hospital. Last night's edition of The Star incorrectly listed the baby as a boy.

War Plant Veterans at Legion Meeting

Bird-McGinnis Post 162, American Legion, held a social meeting Tuesday night for the entertainment of visiting veterans here with the Scioto Ordnance plant. A program included entertainment by Barbara Breithaupt, pianist, Dorothy Baldauf, soloist, and Ruth Wise reader. A fish fry followed the program. A meeting was announced for May 12 to which the out-of-town veterans are invited.

CENTRAL JR. HIGH PLAYS ON TONIGHT

Freshmen Event Scheduled; Will Repeat Friday Night.

Freshmen of Central Junior High school will present three plays tonight and Friday night in the school auditorium. They are "Elmer," by Beatrice McNeil, "The Farnsworth Nose," by E. Clayton McCarty, and "Beep, Beep-Clang, Clang-Boop, Boop-a-Doop."

Taking part in "Elmer" will be Donald Williams, Donna Sonneck, Joyce Baker, Barbara Michel, Martha Ekey, Beverly West, Richard Rae and Vincent Crowin. "Pensy" the dog, will be played by Trixie. The setting will be the Collier sitting and dining room and the time will be evening.

"The Farnsworth Nose" will be presented by Jane Cornet, Joan Bonnetta, Anne Thomas Gordon Acker and Glen Martin. The setting will be the afternoon of St Valentine's day in the Farnsworth living room.

The following will take part in "Beep, Beep-Clang, Clang-Boop, Boop-a-Doop:" Harold Brady, Loren Daniels, Marvin Evans, William Dickson, Don Coldwell, Charles Alspach, Carl Morris, Robert Lawther, Robert Sollsher, Bruce Johnson, Dale Willis, Robert Mosley, Richard Artz, Carol Vance, Jo Ann Frederick and Barbara Burke.

The scene takes place in the interior of an old barn in a suburban section of a large city. The time is around 8 p. m. in the late autumn. Soloists will be Celesta Smith and Joan Lockwood, and there will be music by the Central Junior High school orchestra directed by Homer Huffman.

On the stage crew will be Mr Anderson, Mr. Wade and James Touchett and properties will be in charge of Mrs Lucille Simpson, Betty Bierce, Betty Lehman, Celesta Smith and Alice Postell. In charge of make-up will be Myra Pence and Norma Birchem and business manager is Miss Anna Parks. Lewis McPeek is in charge of tickets, Jeanne Bachelder, posters, and Edna Rider, programs.

Ushers are Virginia Mayfield, Patricia Barklow, Virginia Snyder, Virginia Deitz, Mary Margaret LaRue, Barbara Stuckey, Alice Drumm, Jerry Messenger, and Jeanne Bachelder. Prompters will be Mary Evelyn Carey, Caroline Kay and June Housemay.

The plays will be presented under the direction of Miss Zelmah Howard, Miss DeMord Hafer and Granville Hammond, members of the faculty.

BIBLE CLASS MEETS

Plans were made to buy six building blocks for the church at a meeting of the Westminster Bible class of First Presbyterian Sunday school Tuesday at the home of Mrs. C. H. Lindsey of Windsor street. The members were invited for luncheon served by Mrs Lindsey and her group. Mrs Marshall McKinstry conducted devotions. For entertainment Mrs. C. C. Wolford conducted tongue twisters and conundrums.

Will Hold Rites Here for Former Marionite

The body of Fred E Schaffer of Clearwater, Fla., former Marion restaurant owner, will arrive here Friday at 2:40 p. m. and will be taken to the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Mt Vernon avenue. Burial will be made in the Marion cemetery at 3 p. m. Friday with Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, conducting the service. Mr. Schaffer died several weeks ago at his home in Clearwater, Fla., where he operated a restaurant for a number of years.

Linoleum Peddlers Fined in City Court

Two Detroit men, arrested by police Tuesday morning in connection with alleged sales of linoleum with no license, pleaded guilty in Municipal Judge Hezen's court yesterday.

Morris Terneack, 38, charged with peddling without a city license was fined $10 and costs, both of which were suspended.

Murray Bernstein, 30, in car Terneack was said to have been riding at West Center and Glad streets while going door to door selling linoleum, charged with driving an auto in no operator's license, was released after paying costs.

MARIONITE'S BROTHER ON FEDERAL BOARD

Member of Man-Power Commission Kin of M. G. Lund.

Wendell Lund, 35-year-old former director of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission whose appointment by President Roosevelt to the War Man-power Commission was made on Sunday, is a brother of Malcolm G. Lund of 196 Forest street, account executive for the Howard Swink Advertising agency on East Center street.

Mr. Lund will represent the new Labor Production Division of the War Production Board on the man-power agency, which is headed by Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator.

According to an Associated Press report from Washington, announcement of his selection also was the first official disclosure that he had been named head of WPB's labor division.

His was one of eight appointments to the WMC announced by the President. The commission will supervise the channeling of men and women into war jobs.

A resident of Birmingham, Mich., Mr. Lund was recommended for the labor division job last Friday by a CIO and AFL committee. He at one time worked in Washington in the agriculture and interior departments.

Mr. Lund has visited here several times with his brother, who came to Marion a year ago. The family home is in Escanaba, Mich.

Relief Is Available Under Price Ceilings

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 30 — Dealers who "get caught with very abnormally low prices" for March may appeal to the office of price administration to establish new ceilings, an OPA official said today.

Dr. Clifford L. James, regional OPA price executive, asserted at an advertising and promotion conference here today that "if any retailer has a very clear-cut case of 'out of line prices' the office of price administration is ready to make the necessary adjustments."

A merchant, he explained, might have kept prices of a commodity down during March because he had a large stock on hand, even though he knew the replacement cost woul be higher.

If his prices were "abnormally low" as compared with those of his competitors, the dealer could apply for relief from the ceiling based on his highest March price under the freezing order which goes into effect next month.

James announced that state offices of the OPA would be established in Columbus within two weeks and that district offices would be set up in "seven or eight" larger cities as soon as possible.

A trailer has been invented by a resident of El Centro, Calif., to pick up and carry heavy farm machinery barred from paved highways.

TO GIVE CONCERT

Above is Gatty Sellars, internationally known English organist-composer, who will give a public concert Friday night at 8 in Emanuel Lutheran church under auspices of the senior choir. The program will be as follows: "Fugue in G minor," Bach; "Contemplation," Sellars; "Benediction," Karg-Elert; "The Mighty Andes," Sellars; "Nuptial Song," Frimi; "An Ocean Tempest," Sellars; "Rhapsody on the Reformation Hymn," Sellars; "Fantasia on Russian National Airs," Tschaikowsky, arranged by Sellars. "The Royal Approach," Sellars; "Marche Heroique," Saint-Saens.

Arrangements Made To Broadcast Derby

The Kentucky Derby will have its usual broadcast space on Saturday afternoon via the CBS network as well as short wave.

CBS will be under an exclusive contract, while Schenectady's WGEO and WGEA will put it on short wave. The short waves will include both direct transmission at the time of the race and a relayed broadcast Sunday morning at 9:30, in the hope of reaching all possible American soldiers overseas.

On CBS, the race at 6:15 will be preceded by a preview by experts at 5:45. Ted Husing will do the color while Clem McCarthy, loaned by NBC, will handle the actual running.

Route 95 from Mt. Gilead to Chesterville Listed.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, April 30—State highway officials of department six at Delaware have unofficially announced that Route 95 from Mt. Gilead east 11 miles to Chesterville will be improved this summer.

The improvement will include widening the present roadway to 18 feet and resurfacing with bituminous material.

Efforts have been made for several years to secure this improvement as the roadway is in bad condition and the road has been surveyed and plans made on two occasions but traffic counts in the past have been low enough to force the use of road funds on more heavily traveled routes, state highway department officials have stated.

It was indicated this week that bids will be asked in the near future for the 11 mile project.

Trucker Arrested By State Patrolmen Fined

DeWitt Ewing, 37, of Bluffton was arrested by Marion state highway patrolmen yesterday afternoon on Route 23 near Delaware on a charge of operating a truck and semi-trailer which was over height and over width.

Patrolmen said Ewing was hauling a large ditch digger weighing about 13 tons and that he had no permit for such hauling, as required by the Ohio department of highways.

He was fined $5 and costs in the court of Mayor Spaulding in Delaware.

W. L. Dowler To Report for Duty Friday.

William L. Dowler, instrumental music instructor in the junior high schools who enlisted recently at Patterson Field near Dayton, has received orders to report Friday morning at Patterson field for radio service work in the army air corps.

Mr. Dowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess T. Dowler of 675 Windsor street, has been in the music department of the public schools since 1936.

A graduate of Harding High school in 1927 and of Ithaca college in Ithaca, N. Y., in 1934, he has a bachelor of science degree with a music major. In the summers of 1938-39 he studied at the University of Cincinnati in preparation for his master's degree, for which he has been completing his thesis.

Mr. Dowler, a member of First Presbyterian church and of the Sunday school orchestra, which his father directs, has been vocal soloist at First Church of Christ Scientist for the last several years.

It Is Not Business as Usual

LIKE the blind men who tried to understand what an elephant was by touching different parts of it and reaching different conclusions, the numerous groups affected by it are trying to understand price control in terms of its probable effect on them.

They won't have much luck. In the first place, the effect of price control on any one group is less important than its effect on all groups. The best plan in the world would be full of injustices. But if it succeeded in keeping prices from sailing sky-high in an inflationary spiral, it still would be a good plan.

This is not a 'laissez-faire' economy functioning in peacetime. This is a managed economy designed for wartime. It is also, for the most part, an experimental economy, drawing heavily on foreign experience for its preliminary operations. The United States is trying something new "for the duration." It cannot be judged by familiar standards.

Inevitably, many individuals, many groups, many organizations will be hurt. Business-as-usual can't be switched over to business-not-as-usual without tremendous dislocations and inequalities. Nor could the government afford to wait till everything had been settled to everybody's satisfaction beforehand.

It is entirely possible that the price control theory may prove to be a fizzle. But if it should turn out that way—if lack of sympathy and cooperation should make it turn out that way—the United States would be infinitely worse off than it promises to be with even a partly successful plan in operation. There is nothing whatever to be gained from runaway inflation, which is the alternative to attempt to stabilize price levels during the persistent pressures released by a war boom.

The air will be full of cries of grief and anger prompted by realization of "what this means to me." It is going to mean a great deal—no doubt of it. But if everyone who is going to get hurt will remember that in wartime the importance of "me" is secondary to the welfare of "us" perhaps the hammer blows will be easier to bear.

We Can't Have Both

SOMETHING is wrong with the way the federal government is tackling the tire problem. It looks suspiciously like the now discredited policy of appeasement—of auto owners, this time.

A transportation catastrophe is in store unless tires now in existence can be made to last for the duration of the war, or until a substitute for rubber is available in sufficient quantity to meet the demand.

This is acknowledged on all sides. Yet, aside from a few scattered and rather futile gestures, nothing is being done to make the tires last. Specifically, nothing is being done directly to curtail the use of automobiles.

It is not enough for an individual here and there to cut down on the use of his car. The mileage the volunteers are saving will not avert catastrophe. It won't help the war job holder get to work when he and millions like him have run out of tires.

Nor is it enough for the government to make scared-rabbit gestures toward gasoline rationing—and then apologize for the gestures as soon as someone proves there is almost enough gasoline for everybody. That is exactly like a diabetic patient telling the doctor it is foolish to quit eating candy because there is enough candy for everybody.

Soundest approach to the problem publicized so far is a program submitted to governors and municipal officials by Joseph B. Eastman, head of the office of defense transportation. It calls directly for measures to reduce automobile mileage, patterned after a plan already operating in Pontiac, Mich. Perhaps if other officials would let Mr. Eastman's office do all the talking on the transportation problem—defining it as a potential catastrophe unless it is solved—there might be more light and less noise. Americans can't wear out their tires and have them, too.

Just Pretending

TWO years ago as April closed, an ordinary American family might have been thinking about trading in the old car on a new one. It might have been eyeing prices on a new set of tires, to take care of a long vacation trip.

Almost certainly it would have been planning to make a down payment soon on any one of a dozen household necessities. It would have been encouraged to think this way by no less important a party than the government, itself.

Today, the government is encouraging every individual and family to work at least as hard to purchase War Stamps and Bonds as Americans customarily work to buy the vast multitude of things for sale in this country.

It wants them to pretend that their financial part in the war is at least as important to them as that shiny automobile they can't buy this year. It does not seem like a great deal to ask.

News Behind the News

President's Plan Expected To Hit Congressional Snags on 3 Points.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, April 30—The lack of enthusiasm in congressional comment on Mr. Roosevelt's new price-freezing apparatus forecasts trouble on the few features which congress was called upon to enact.

It was quite evident from what some of the prominent leaders did not say, and from what others said behind their hands, off-the-record, that all three of the President's suggested courses of legislative action will encounter difficulties.

The farm bloc will strenuously resist the suggestion that its 110 per cent of parity goal be moved back. Instead the senate appropriations committee is expected to write into the agricultural appropriations bill a restriction against government dumping of surpluses.

The proposed $25,000 limit on income found an equally unwelcome reception, although this was not quite as evident. The restriction smacks too much of confiscation.

No doubt congress will enact some kind of additional excess profits tax, but not one as drastic as the treasury and the President have in mind.

Thus on all three points the President's purposes will be moderated.

No Surprise

The prevailing opinion in the congressional cloakrooms is that Mr. Roosevelt well knew that those three suggestions would meet a cold reception.

The general thought was the message was intended to prepare public opinion for the price-fixing and to stop the congressional drive on labor.

From the first standpoint, the program let congress and the country have a real understanding of overall economic policy, thus softening the effects of the stringent price ceiling imposed by Henderson 24 hours later.

There is no question also that it served to wrap a wet blanket around the already cornered movement for labor law revision. There is even less chance of action in the house now than before on the Vinson bill to establish a 48-hour week.

Senator Connally's prompt withdrawal of this plant-seizure bill in the senate, on the ground that he did not wish to get into a setup with the President, will have a similar dampening effect on efforts to restrain labor in that branch.

The economic freezing apparatus offered by the President was, as a whole, delicately balanced politically from the radical-conservative and compulsion-voluntary standpoints. It was a typical Roosevelt contrivance devised as a compromise between conflicting elements.

The course of radical compulsion was offered on prices and taxes, but the method of voluntary appeal was suggested for bond sales.

The interests of farms and labor were likewise finely weighed. An indirect "stabilization" of wages will offend labor little and satisfy farm complainants, while the further limitation of farm prices (which cannot be unexpected) will satisfy labor and not make the farmers angry very long.

In all essentials, the plan is thus just as outlined in this column of April 23.

British Experience

Whether the plan will work can only be determined by experience. The British have had in effect the same mild indirect wage policy yet hourly wages have risen on the average of 8 per cent in the last year. As 8 per cent is the average, many rates have risen considerably more.

The British national arbitration tribunal (corresponding to our war labor board) has only used official announcement that government policy favors stabilization.

British experience on prices is not comparable to what Roosevelt proposes to do. The government there started out by merely asking merchants not to increase prices unless individual costs of production increased.

This proved wholly unsatisfactory, and on July 22, 1941, the board of trade was given the power to act arbitrarily. But all the board did was to select a limited list of commodities upon which ceilings were placed. No general freeze order was attempted.

During all this period, the cost of living rose from an index of 174 in January, 1940, to 195 in December, and finally got up to 200 in May, 1941, although it has receded slightly since then.

The British system, of course, was reinforced by stricter rationing than is contemplated here.

Need Seen for Tax on Lower Incomes and Compulsory Savings Program.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

UNDER the general principles of the President's seven-point program everything needed can be done eventually. But until the President makes up his mind to overrule the treasury department's tax and savings policy, he will not have begun to come to grips with the inflation.

For such inflation exists when there is too much money in the hands of those who wish to spend it, price control and wage control, however desirable for other reasons, cannot cure and cannot prevent inflation.

Mr. Henderson cannot stop the inflation. In fact, Mr. Henderson cannot control prices unless Secretary Morgenthau reduces the inflation. The war labor board cannot stop the inflation, and the treasury has no program which can stop the inflation.

The heart of the problem is the fact that even after congress has enacted the new tax bill, and even if the treasury's bond-selling campaign goes very well indeed, there will be at least ten billions excess purchasing power loose in the market during the coming year. This is a conservative estimate. Probably it under-estimates the rapidity with which the war production program, now rolling, will actually turn out munitions of war. Therefore, it probably under-estimates that rate at which materials and labor will be mobilized away from the civilian consumer. And very probably it over-estimates the capacity of the treasury to sell bonds to genuine investors.

A Big Factor

Now ten billion dollars of loose money is quite enough to blow the ceiling off any system of price and wage control that Mr. Henderson and the war labor board can devise. It is a terrific inflationary force. Yet the treasury is not even proposing to try to regulate it.

For the great increase of aggregate income during the past eighteen months has gone to wage earners and to some farmers who are barely touched or not touched at all by the present income tax. This added income is at the present time in the highest degree inflationary because about half of all consumption goods that are bought in this country are bought by the great mass of people who have small incomes. Because they have small incomes, they tend to spend extra income as soon as it is earned. They are not reached by the income tax, and they do not ordinarily save to invest. They have bought less than 10 per cent of all savings bonds.

Therefore, the treasury policy cannot possibly cure the existing inflation or prevent an even greater inflation. Until there is a tax bill which reaches the lower incomes, which have recently been in the aggregate greatly increased, and until there is a compulsory savings plan, the administration ought not to pretend that it is dealing with inflation. Necessary and desirable as it is to tax the rich and the moderately well-to-do, the cold fact is that their taxes cannot and will not in themselves deal with the inflation. Nor can selling bonds to these people deal with inflation. If the banks buy the bonds, all that does is to make the inflation greater, and if investors buy bonds out of their normal savings, little is accomplished because what is saved and not spent is not inflationary anyway.

This is the specific and critical weakness of the program as it now stands. The weakness can be overcome as soon as the President decides to make the treasury's tax and savings policy conform to the recommendations of his other economic advisers. For it is no secret that Vice President Wallace, Mr. Eccles of the federal reserve board, Mr. Henderson, and the director of the budget, Mr. Harold D. Smith, are agreed that the treasury policy is wholly inadequate. The bottleneck is between the White House and the treasury. It will have to be broken if we are to deal with inflation.

Some Points O. K.

The rest of the program as it affects manufacturers, farm products, and wages can be made manageable only when the inflationary pressure of excess purchasing power is drained off by taxes or dammed up by savings that cannot be spent during the war period. Even then the problems will be formidable. But they are not insoluble, and on the whole it seems to me that the President's approach to them is wiser than many of his critics are willing to admit.

This is especially true of his

Let'Em Serve

Oldsters Have Much To Give tion's War Work If Their Quali ties Can Be Recognized.

By DAMON RUNYON

THERE is downright pathos in many of letters coming to me from middle-a though able-bodied, men eager to serve country, yet denied the privilege because their years, while young fellows who o to be on combat service are holding army navy administrative posts that should be ru over to oldsters.

Thousands of veterans from the first W war, of high professional standing, have unteered their services, only to be wholly regarded. Among them are lawyers and b ness executives commanding big salaries civilian life and whose experience and j ment would be most valuable to the gov ment at this time.

Private corporations compete for them consider them great prizes, but army and policy seems to be to discourage their ef to render service. Meantime, commissions being dished out to the most improbable c acters, some of whom do little more than play themselves in uniform, while others put into jobs for which they have no capa whatever.

I am inclined to the belief that there be a fine row over some of the commissio before long. The absurdity of many of commissions is too patent to be long overlook especially when they are being given to in perienced men no younger than those with finitely greater capability who cannot even a hearing. The conjuring up of vague and wholly fictitious duties as an excuse for co missions is commencing to irritate fathers mothers whose sons are doing the fighting.

YOU might think that a sense of shame wo prevent a man from accepting a comm sion for which he has had no qualification previous experience in active service or reserve and which he knows is an empty ho acquired through influence and carrying duties that he could not discharge as a civ But since we have had the mail order off in all our wars, we must assume that sha is a trifle scarce in wartime.

What burns me up about the army and n policy toward men of middle age or a li beyond, especially veterans of the first W war, when they offer their services is that m of the master minds of both branches are p 50 years of age. I can almost guarantee among the high ranking officers you will f many members of the Platemen of Amer yet no one would want to trade them younger and toothier chaps in a bear fight.

If middle age does not militate against directors of the battling, I cannot see why should be a knock to others who want to se The combat divisions always need young offic and a large number of them could be relea to active service by putting the old 'uns to w at the desks. The gentle young civilian emplo who are performing tasks in Washington elsewhere that could be done even better by veterans could be sent to the recruiting s geants.

SOME of the jobs that have been cooked under the guise of war work are unnec sary to say the least, but allowing that t are all essential, I do not think they sho be permitted to harbor service eligibles w it is possible to fill all the places with co petent veterans. The American Legion, wh so far has been overlooked as an organiza in this war, could supply the veterans fr its membership. In saying it has been ov looked, I mean that the government does seem to appreciate the potentialities of Legion as a civilian defense force, taking as a body.

Of course I realize that all my squawking going to get me nowhere. The old blokes register, per instructions, and may subsequen be invited to a little light duty, thought I do it. Meantime, the kids will continue on clerical jobs, perhaps, while the combat d ions are wondering what has delayed th reinforcements.

Prelude To Fireworks

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The spring lull on Capi Hill is almost over. The President practica put an end to it the other day when he tos in his message to Congress outlining the adm istration's ideas of the legislative needs to pr vent that vicious spiral of prices and wages th is called inflation.

The finishing touches on anything that fain resembles Congressional somnolence will co when the chips are in with your reactions to t President's fireside chat, explaining those a ministration ideas to you and you.

There is one peculiar thing about this lull the Capitol chambers and corridors, and th is that through it all Congress has been sitti quietly on more dynamite than has been se around here in a year or more. This dynam was in the form of bills introduced, bills in co mittee, bills ready for debate and a vote—all them dealing with those vital matters of pr control, rationing, the wages and hours of lab the wartime regulation of labor unions, co porate and personal profits, ceilings on incom And any one or all these, if passed, could ha more effect on you, whether you warm luxu ous leather behind a mahogany desk in W Street, or hoe a rocky acre at the forks of t creek, than anything that has been done sin Pearl Harbor.

It took a lot of phenagling by administrat leaders on the hill to keep Congress still quietly while the President drew up his over program.

That Connally bill in the Senate, not a drast measure in itself but clearing the way for arm ment and possible amendments on every lab issue from wage control to the closed sho almost blew the lid off.

Although still in committee, the Smith-Vins bill in the house of representatives threaten to cause a similar explosion in the Capito south wing.

The President's right hand men in Congre had some bad moments before they got all t dynamite wrapped up and labeled not to opened until the President had had his say.

Those who crave action may be asking wh the delay. I know at least the administratio answer. It is simply that they don't want an laws passed in the heat of battle that may boomerang on the war effort. Some of the law proposed, in the opinion of the administrat might have done just that. That's why the Pres dent took a hand. That's how the lull can about.

But it's almost over and if you like lemelate fireworks, keep your eyes on Capitol Hill. O a drenching downpour of public indifferenc can put out the fuses now.

FIGHTING FORCES IN THE WAR OF SURVIVAL

Wide World Features

The nations at war have a total of 20 to 30 million men under arms. Maximum strength of the United Nations, not including the comparatively small armies of the British dominions and The Netherlands, is approximately 18 million; of the Axis, 12½ million, not including the small Balkan countries and Finland, whose forces number about 1½ million. Biggest question mark in a comparison of troop strength is the Chinese army, variously estimated at 2 to 6 million warriors.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, April 30, 1932.

Will Rogers in his daily message wrote from Hollywood: "The congressman that suggested cutting government aviators' salary to help balance their overspent budget, he didn't get very far with his bill. In fact he wasn't able to take off and leave the ground with it. Taxpayers know that an aviator risks his life every day, and a politician only on Nov. 4 every four years."

Appointment of Police Capt. Ira Shuck as day captain was announced by Chief Marks. He was to be succeeded as night captain by E. C. Mackan.

Members of Betsy Ross auxiliary and Marion Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, gave a party for Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Showers at their home on South State street. Mr. and Mrs. Showers and son Tommy were to leave Marion soon, Mr. Showers having been assigned to a new post in the navy service. He had served as the local recruiting officer for three years.

L. J. Taber, national grange leader and Republican candidate for U. S. senator, removed all doubt as to his stand on prohibition when he spoke to an audience at Central Junior High school auditorium and declared himself a staunch believer in the Eighteenth Amendment.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, April 30, 1922.

John C. Stubert, 84, died at his home in Richwood. He was a Civil war veteran.

A Washington dispatch reported that an immediate business boom in the United States was unlikely because of Europe's tardy economic reconstruction following the war, but it was said that fundamental conditions were much better and were expected to continue to improve steadily though slowly.

Fred E. Guthery gave the address at the annual memorial services of Marion Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, held at the lodge hall on West Center street. The lodge's list of dead included H. S. Williams, C. R. Ried, J. L. Bush, W. L. Johnson, F. H. Ritchaupt, I. B. Smith, L. W. Tron, W. H. Bender, A. H. Smith, Nells Montgomery, H. H. Richards, J. H. O'Keefe, John Cozad, W. F. Evans, E. P. King, W. F. Broadsword and George Walkins.

"Marion is in the national eye and you can not afford to have Marion become a byword for gamblers, bootleggers and degenerates," Dr. Henry W. Stough of Chicago, said in addressing a men's meeting at Epworth M. E. church. His subject was "Crooks and Crookedness." Dr. Stough was here conducting a series of religious meetings.

A Credo for the Duration

By Lynn U. Stambaugh

National Commander, American Legion.

FOR the duration, may I suggest that every Legionnaire and every American create and adopt his own war credo. To a people such as ours this credo will have many meanings, but surely it will include the following:

I will do all that I can to demonstrate my allegiance to the flag and to the republic for which it stands.

I will harbor no thought, perform no action, utter no words, that will create doubt about the country I love, the United States of America.

I will do all that I can to bring victory to the United States of America and to her military allies.

I will keep ever in my mind the basic necessity for bringing about the overthrow of every sworn enemy of my country.

I will be guided by reason, rather than emotion, in the daily effort to make right the master of might.

I will do my utmost to inspire confidence in the leaders of our war effort.

I will, so far as it lies within my power, conduct my own war efforts as if I were, in fact, wearing the uniform of my country.

I will resist any temptation to hamper my country's progress in this war because of any selfish desire for private profit or personal gain.

I will be ever alert as a guardian of my country's richest heritage — the American heritage of freedom and justice.—From the Ohio American Legion News.

leadership in the field of labor, where he has clung stubbornly, and as the event shows successfully, to the idea of the largest possible amount of voluntary agreement. It is all very well for congressmen or newspaper writers to say: Let us pass laws forbidding strikes, laws freezing industrial relations, laws freezing wages. They do not have to administer those laws. The President would have to administer them. And if he can outlaw strikes, if he can preserve order in industrial relations, if he can stabilize the wage structure, if he can do all these things with the active assistance of labor leaders and labor unions, the ultimate effect will be infinitely surer and more satisfactory. Let us never forget that you can lead a horse to water, but that you cannot make him drink. You can lead a workingman to his tools, but you cannot make him work with his whole heart.

Obviously, we cannot win the war and have strikes. We cannot win the war and have endless wrangling about the closed shop. We cannot win the war if wages go into a competitive spiral as employers bid against one another. But in our eagerness to deal with these matters, let us be careful, let us be very careful indeed, not to impair the will to work by getting into a position where it even looks as if we were using the emergency of war to break up the unions and to destroy collective bargaining.

Moose Group Goes to Bucyrus Meeting

More than 20 members of Chapter 446, Women of the Moose, and five members of Marion Lodge 869, Loyal Order of the Moose, attended a potluck supper and chapter night program held by the Bucyrus chapter Tuesday night. Initiatory work was in charge of the Marion chapter.

A program included a piano solo by Mrs. Florence Blackburn. State officers present were Mrs. Anna Regner of Columbus, associate graduate regent and Mrs. Emma Wenninger of Bucyrus, national conference leader.

On May 5 the Marion chapter will entertain with an open meeting. Bucyrus lodge will have charge of the initiatory work and Mrs. Georgia Brady, child care chairman, will be in charge of a program. An honor guest will be Mrs. Ester Taylor of Barberton, past vice president of the Mooseheart Alumni association. Five members of the Marion chapter attended a conference meeting at Bellevue Sunday. Mrs. Anna Morrison, homemaking chairman, was an honor guest.

Officers Installed By Prospect Church Group

Mrs. Charles Kirby of Prospect, secretary of the Marion Baptist association guilds installed officers headed by Mrs. William McPherson as president when the ReVera guild of the Prospect Baptist church met Monday night with Mrs. Kenneth Johnston of 313 East Church street. Mrs. Kirby was a guest. Letters were read from Richard Crawford, a Prospect man now with the army in Australia, Mrs. Charles Fly of Rockford, Ill., a former member, and from the Kodiak, Alaska, mission school. Mrs. Harold Click presented the lesson study, "The Seed in the Soil." Mrs. Donald Hickman was in charge of a program. Mrs. Johnston conducted devotions on the theme, "Our Measuring Stick." Arrangements were made to attend the combined state and national conventions May 22-24 in Cleveland. Mrs. Hickman and Mrs. Johnston were appointed menu and program chairmen, respectively, for a Mothers' day dinner May 8 in the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith and Miss Ina Blumenschein visited Sunday with Mr. Schertzer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Schertzer of Mt. Victory. Mrs. Schertzer accompanied her son to Columbus where he left for a camp in the west.

Members of the Child Culture league having birthday anniversaries in the last half of the club year were served a miniature three-course dinner at a meeting Monday evening with Mrs. Ernest Williams of Pennsylvania avenue. Pink candles and a lighted birthday cake centered the table at which they were seated.

Mrs. V. D. Felt gave a report of a recent district meeting at Marysville. The following officers were reelected: Mrs. Felt, president; Mrs. Frank Bradley, vice president; Mrs. Harry Zink, secretary; Mrs. Williams, treasurer. Mrs. Ira Salter won contest honors.

Miss Mary Alice Boyd was a guest at the Linger Awhile club meeting Monday evening with Mrs. Edwin K. Smith of East Center street. Mrs. Harold Coffey and Mrs. Marion Davis won high and consolation awards in bridge.

Mrs. Harry Schultz won first honors when Mrs. Lester Green entertained the Dandee Euchre club at her home on Oak Grove avenue last Thursday. Mrs. Fred Weber won second honors, Mrs. Damon Spicer the lone hand award and Mrs. Arthur Mochel the galloping prize. Mrs. Paul Augenstein was consoled. Mrs. Wade Ralph was a guest.

Weddings

The marriage of Miss Lillian Darlington of Colton, Calif., and James M. Davis Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Davis of 232 Reed avenue, is being announced today.

The double ring ceremony was read April 12 by Dr. John H. Creighton of First Presbyterian church in San Francisco, one of the oldest Protestant churches in the west. It was organized in 1849.

Mr. Davis, a resident of Marion 22 years, was employed at the Marion Steam Shovel Co. prior to his induction 11 months ago. His bride has been secretary to the superintendent of the Colton high school for several years. They will live in San Francisco, where Mr. Davis is stationed.

Altrusa Club Hears Talk by Supt. E. E. Holt

SUPT. E. E. HOLT of the city schools was a guest speaker at the monthly dinner meeting of the Altrusa club Tuesday evening at Hotel Harding. The program was arranged by the vocational information committee of the club of which Miss Alice Dombaugh is chairman.

In presenting Mr. Holt Miss Dombaugh reviewed the history of vocational guidance, adopted by the club in 1924, and pointed out that the activity was a major project of the organization.

Mr. Holt discussed vocational guidance, pointing out that the job organizations such as the Altrusa club and educators have is that of building up. "We haven't scratched the surface in the realm of adult education," he stated. In discussing the youth and the future he emphasized occupational adjustment and stressed the necessity of adjustment and guidance. There is a basic need for occupational information for youth in the schools, Mr. Holt pointed out. He gave a brief outline of the keeping of student records in the school. Rural youth migration of the cities was cited as one of the major problems of the present by Mr. Holt.

Miss Jessie Lindsey announced the club had received an invitation to attend a social meeting of the Columbus Altrusa club May 23.

Tulips and lilacs were combined for the table decorations.

REUNION VISIT ENDS

Theodore "Ted" Roosevelt Clark has returned to Houston, Texas, after a visit with his sisters, Mrs. W. C. Berry of Cleveland and Mrs. Pearl Clark Pine of 193½ East Center street, whom he had not seen for 16 years. Mr. Clark, who retired from the United States navy 16 years ago after six years of service on the destroyer Burns, expects to go into submarine service May 17. His trip home was to get a birth certificate to enable him to enter government service. Mrs. Berry came to Marion for a visit with her brother and a number of friends called when Mrs. Pine observed open house over the week-end for her brother.

AT ADA MEETING

Mrs. D. E. Montgomery of Delaware avenue, state deputy inspector and chairman of the cheer and sunshine committee of the Daughters of Union Veterans, was in Ada Tuesday where she inspected the work of the Ada tent. A dinner was served. Mrs. Montgomery will go to Tiffin Friday to inspect the work of the tent in that city and later will conduct an inspection at Shelby.

Mrs. C. J. Altmaier Is Sorority Speaker

Mrs. C. J. Altmaier was the speaker for a program meeting role by Ohio Alpha chapter, Pi Omicron sorority last evening in the offices of Streitz, Dowler and Wiedemann. She talked on "My Trip Through Indian Reservations" and discussed Mexican and Indian art and also the art of other countries. Miss Blanche Converse presided as program chairman. Mrs. Altmaier had a number of pieces of art from her own collection and also many pictures of interesting places she has visited. Miss Enid Little announced the sorority's guest party for Sunday afternoon at Hotel Harding.

Linen Shower Is Given Bride-To-Be of Army Aviator

MISS MAXINE FETTER, who left last evening for San Antonio, Tex., where Saturday she will become the bride of Lieut. Donald E. Eggleston of Hensley Field, Tex., was complimented with a linen shower Tuesday evening when Miss Betty Ganoe entertained at her home at 170 Curtis court.

For her table centerpiece Miss Ganoe arranged a miniature landing field, with soldiers, floodlights and airplanes lighted in red, white and blue. A card dealt to Miss Fetter in "crazy bridge" directed her to investigate a parachute landing in a matrimonial field and to leave nothing "uncovered." She found her gifts attached to a parachute in a corner of the room. The award was won by Miss Esther Marie Eggleston. The hostess was assisted in serving by her mother, Mrs. John Ganoe. The salad and ribbon sandwiches were in Miss Fetter's colors of red, white and blue.

Present with the honor guest were Mrs. Paul Fetter, Mrs. J. E. Eggleston, Mrs. Guy Shambaugh, Mrs. Robert McEldowney, Mrs. Harold Mash, Mrs. Dana Kirts, Mrs. Delnare Ault, Mrs. Byron France, Misses Helen Fetter, Alberta Cowgill, Helen Snyder, Martha Ann Gorton, Julia Ann Walsh, Wilma Ehrick, Virginia Fetter, Esther Marie Eggleston, Jane Fetter and Marjorie Bindley.

Personal Mention

Mrs. David H. Peterson and her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Harris of 264 North Seffner avenue, left yesterday for Hattiesburg, Miss., for an extended visit with Mrs. Peterson's daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Peterson, wife of Lieut. John Peterson who is stationed on the island of Aruba.

Two Honored At Farewell Party by King's Daughters

MRS. O. M. Young of East Church street was hostess when the Whatsoever circle of King's Daughters gave a farewell party last evening honoring Mrs. Z. B. Houghton and Mrs. H. E. Holden, members who are leaving the city. Mrs. Houghton with her husband, Dr. Houghton, will leave in the near future to make their home in Central Lake, Michigan, and Mrs. Holden will make her future home in Ironwood. Mrs. Houghton and Mrs. Holden are sisters.

The honor guests and members, numbering 50, spent the evening socially in rooms colorfully decorated with spring flowers. Mrs. O. D. Anderson was in charge of the entertainment which included contests. Award of potted plants were won by Mrs. E. E. Holt, Mrs. H. L. Slyh, Mrs. French Crow and Miss Anna Dennig.

Gifts were presented to the honor guests in recognition of their service and association with the circle. They responded with informal talks. Mrs. French Crow who returned recently from Oakland, Calif., talked on activities on the Pacific coast and described blackouts.

Presiding at the table during the social hour were Mrs. L. O. Magill, leader, and Mrs. Frank Glosser, leader-elect. The centerpiece was a bowl filled with tulips, snapdragons and apple blossoms and at either side were triple-branched candelabra holding lighted pastel candles. Favors were basket of candied fruit. Assisting Mrs. Young were members of the social committe with Mrs. O. C. Alspach as chairman.

A regular meeting of the circle will be next Monday night with Miss Floretta Almendinger of West Church street as hostess.

ONE PHASE OF SUGAR REGISTRATION ENDS

Officials Turning Attention to Individual Users.

Final figures on the registration of institutional, wholesale, retail and industrial users of sugar, which was conducted in Marion county Tuesday and Wednesday, will not be available until all county districts are heard from, John P Probst county rationing coordinator, said today

Mr Probst said plans are now being made for registration of individual users He said it is possible this registration will begin next Monday Although details of the registration are in the hands of E E Holt, superintendent of city schools, and D T Mills superintendent of county schools, Mr Probst said probably the high schools will be eliminated in the next registration and elementary schools will be used instead.

DEFENSE WORKERS TO RIDE SCHOOL BUSES

Extensive Use of Vehicles Proposed in Ohio.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 30—School children in Ohio's defense areas may not have to get out of bed in the dark, early-morning hours to be on time for classes next winter.

George McConnaughey, chairman of the new state defense transportation committee, said today a plan to use privately-owned school buses more extensively for carrying workers to war jobs would require opening of schools later or changing plant working schedules

Hours when employes change shifts in most defense plants practically coincide with present opening and closing hours of schools making it impossible for drivers to transport both groups, he explained.

McConnaughey, chairman of the Ohio public utilities commission said the plan would be discussed here Monday at the initial meeting of the transportation committee with Gov Bricker and officials of 60 Ohio towns and cities

"Municipalities will be asked to give defense workers priority wherever possible" he asserted

More than 50 of the state's 5,000 private operators of school buses already have permits to transport defense war workers

Staggering of workers' hours to ease the strain on public transportation system and doubling up in passenger cars wherever possible also will be discussed at the meeting McConnaughey declared adding that the committee has no way of forcing a community to adopt rubber conservation measures

Metzenbaum To Run for Seat in Congress

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 30—State Senator James Metzenbaum announced today he would attempt to win the 22nd Ohio district congressional seat now held by Mrs Frances P Bolton, a Republican.

Announcing his candidacy for the Democratic nomination, Metzenbaum said "In the campaign progresses I shall address myself to the fundamental issues confronting the American people"

The 22nd district, which includes most of Cleveland's suburbs is traditionally Republican but did elect Democrat Anthony Pleger to one term a few years ago

OHIO DRAFT BOARDS GET INSTRUTCIONS

Orders Cover Group Registering Feb. 16.

COLUMBUS, O., April 30—Col C. W. Goble, state selective service director, said today Ohio draft board had been instructed to give first consideration to Feb. 16 registrants with dependents for 3A or 3B classifications.

The 3A group will include men with dependents and not engaged in war essential occupations while those with dependents and working in essential jobs will be classed 3B.

Those in 3A will be the first selected for military service when it becomes necessary to induct men with dependents, Goble explained.

Similar classifications were ordered for first and second draft registrants as rapidly as practicable after grouping of those in the third registration.

"For the time being, the gradual expansion of the armed forces requires no more than a general tightening of classification policies," Goble said.

The new policy does not authorize placing a married man in class 1A merely because his financially dependent wife is working, or is capable of working, Goble said.

DEFER DIVIDEND ACTION

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 30—Directors of the Youngstown Steel Door Co. deferred action on the second quarterly dividend because of "uncertainties in the (railroad) car building program which result from recent restrictions imposed by the war production board." Both sales and net income for the first quarter of 1942 showed increases over the corresponding period last year, President J. P. McWilliams reported yesterday.

OHIOAN PROMOTED

WASHINGTON, April 30—Paul John Lewis of Chagrin Falls, O., was one of 20 enlisted men promoted for meritorious action during a bombing attack on the Marshall islands last February. All were serving on an aircraft carrier. Lewis was advanced to coxswain.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

When the tanks roll, your money invested in War Bonds rolls with them right through enemy lines. The medium size monsters cost more than $70,000 apiece, equipped for action. We must have them. They are the battering rams of our army.

Every patriot investing in War Bonds will buy them for us. Our army uses more of the medium tanks, weighing about 28½ tons, than larger ones. Steel equivalent to 500 mechanical refrigerators and as much rubber as required for 87 medium auto tires goes into these tanks. So buy War Bonds every pay day to reach your county quota.

Two Ohioans Killed in Florida Air Crash

By The Associated Press

ORLANDO, Fla., April 30—Seven army fliers, including two Ohioans, were killed yesterday in the mid-air collision of a bomber and a pursuit ship nine miles west of here.

Col. Thomas S. Voss, commandant of the Orlando air base, said the dead included Second Lieut. Robert S. Boyce of Chillicothe, pilot of the pursuit plane, and Second Lieut. Richard R. Carnevale, 22, of Columbus, who was aboard the bomber.

The bomber, carrying a crew of six, was attached to MacDill Field at Tampa. The pursuit ship was from the Orlando air base.

Both planes burned following the collision.

BURTON ADDS POINT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30—Sen. Harold H. Burton, Cleveland Republican, suggests the addition of an eighth point to President Roosevelt's program to end inflation: "Stop governmental waste." The government has to "live far beyond its income" to win the war, he asserted. "The government therefore should set the extreme example of thrift."

Fees charged for house calls by reputable physicians in Cuba range from $5 to $15.

2 FROM MARION MADE MAJORS

Dr. H. R. Finney and George Gretser Receive Promotions in U. S. Army.

Two Marion men have been advanced to the rank of major in the United States Army, according to word received today.

They are Dr. H. R. Finney, formerly of 557 South Vine street, and George R. Gretser, son of the late George A. Gretser of Marion and a Harding High school graduate.

Dr. Finney, a Marion dentist who as a reserve officer was called into active military service on April 1, 1941, recently was promoted from captain to the rank of major in the dental corps, according to word from Camp Blanding, Fla., where he is stationed.

At Camp for Year

For the last year Major Finney has been located at the station hospital at Camp Blanding. Mrs. Finney and their 18-month-old daughter, Carol Anne, are living in Gainesville, Fla.

Announcement of Major Gretser's promotion came today in a report from Lt. Edwin L. Stoll, public relations officer at Fort Sheridan, Ill.

Major Gretser's promotion was one of five among Fort Sheridan officers. One man was advanced to the rank of lieutenant colonel and three to the rank of captain.

Major Gretser has been stationed at Fort Sheridan for the last two and a half years.

Previous Activities

For a year prior to his assignment at Fort Sheridan he was in the finance offices of the Sixth Corps Area Headquarters in Chicago.

He maneuvered with the Philippine Scouts of the 57th Infantry in the Philippine Islands and on Bataan Peninsula for two years.

A graduate of Harding High school in 1927, Major Gretser was graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1935.

Former Delaware Man in Red Cross Post

DELAWARE, O., April 30 — Alfred L. Baron, formerly of Delaware and for two years lighting supervisor for the Central Ohio Light & Power Co. at Findlay, is in Washington, D. C., for the three-month training course as a field director for the American Red Cross.

After two weeks in Washington he will spend the remainder of the training period in an army camp, working under a Red Cross field director. He then will be assigned to some military post in the United States as field director in charge of all Red Cross activities in the camp.

MILK FOR BABY

After a good grade of milk has been bought for the baby it must be taken care of properly to serve its purpose. Bottles should be covered with caps and placed on the ice, ready for heating and use.

The Right to Govern Ourselves!

(One of the Essentials of a Democracy)

On election day, from farm and hamlet, town and city, comes the voice of America . . . a free America. On this day "every man is a king," because he is exercising the most noble heritage on earth . . . the right to govern himself through his own chosen representatives.

The ballot is symbolic of America's regard for the dignity and nobility of man. It is an outward sign of many rights which we enjoy. The right, for instance, to labor and acquire a home or a business, the right to build with honest sweat, toil and individual enterprise a fortress of security for our loved ones.

This free America was built by the struggles of men who believed in individual freedom. This America of free men will NOT PASS AWAY!

Secret Orders

BY ELEANOR ATTERBURY

CHAPTER NINETEEN

Girl In Fear

AN OPPORTUNITY to see Kurt presented itself much more [illegible] than Stephanie could, in her wildest dreams, have anticipated. Back at Headquarters that same afternoon, she heard tall Miss Dabney, head of the Motor Pool, put in a call for the Hospital long and earnestly. Then, in a eavesdropping shameless way, only pretended to be checking the long list of addresses on her desk.

"But we have no more room for anybody in our city hospitals, you know," Mrs. Daubney was saying into the telephone.

A moment later, Stephanie's pencil picked up tempo.

"I suppose we could move some of the—those who are recuperating—to private homes, if necessary."

Stephanie blessed the fact that it was after five and the long, barnlike room practically deserted. Gathering every shred of courage, I couldn't help overhearing your conversation, Mrs. Daubney. Does it mean that some of the wounded will have to be moved to make room for more from the Islands?"

"Looks like it. We'll send those who can travel at all, inland. Others who can be moved, will be taken to private homes at least temporarily," the older woman told her. "You wouldn't like to take the responsibility of locating homes for them, would you?"

"Of course!" — and felt as though the wings of her Guardian Angel had brushed her cheek.

Henri called after dinner, invited both girls to a symphony concert.

"You go, Vicky." Stephanie urged when her cousin came flying up to her bedroom where Stephanie was already deep in the pillows of her chaise-longue and the intricacies of a detective story. "I'm too tired. Besides, Dad wrote that he might be in either tonight or tomorrow morning. I wouldn't want to miss him."

"Okay. See you later." Vicky agreed easily. Then, as she tilted a precious black chip of a hat over one eye, "You know, angel, I think Henri is actually interested—seriously. Do you know that he has been here every day but one since we moved over?"

"Another notch on your gun, huh, pardner?" Stephanie teased. "At that—Mrs. Henri Francois de la Plane de la Plagerie isn't a bad name."

"Don't be silly. Anyway—I like Henri. He's different." She slipped into a silver fox jacket and the result was enchanting. "Wish you were coming with us."

"No you don't. Skip now and let me solve my murder."

Terror

But she was destined not to solve the murder—not that one. She heard Henri's car roll out of the drive; heard Tsang making his nightly round of the doors and windows on the first floor, carefully checking locks. Then finally the front door closed and old Tsang was off to his weekly visit with his friends some where in the heart of old Chinatown.

Silence settled down over the spacious old house, a silence that was hardly a silence at all, Stephanie thought, cuddling down into her pillows and trying not to hear the stairs creak, an attic window rattling. She was used to the rheumatic complaints of the old home, or should be, she added smiling. Still, she'd be glad when Aunt Allison got back from her bridge party.

The wind began to nag at a loosened window latch. Stephanie gave up after a moment, pulled up the blind, refastened the lock. As she did, something in the darkened garden below caught her attention. A figure moved quickly out of the drive into the pool of shadow under the oak tree. She watched, puzzled. It had looked like a small boy. But that was silly. Small boys wouldn't be prowling about this time of night. Still, she was sure she had seen someone.

When she heard the sound of someone running on the gravel, she jerked erect. There was someone out there! Before she could get up, the footsteps clicked up the steps, across the porch. Then the old-fashioned pull-bell clanged furiously.

Snapping on lights as she went, Stephanie ran down the long hall, the graciously curving staircase, to the front door.

"Who is it?" she called, her hand on the knob as precaution caught up with her.

"It is I, Miss Stephanie, Liu. Please—let me in."

Stephanie flung open the door, stood back as the girl half-sprang, half-fell past her. "Liu! What in the world—"

Gasping for breath, Liu sagged onto the claw-footed mahogany hall chair. "Forgive me for—bursting in—like this. But I was so frightened."

Stephanie reached for the girl's trembling hands, tried to warm their iciness with her own. "But—frightened of what, Liu?"

"If I knew what it was, maybe I would not be so frightened," she said, her pretty face white now, her eyes wide with fear. "But I have had a feeling all day that I was being observed."

"What do you mean?"

"I came back from doing some shopping, and I felt sure that the man in the street car was watching me strangely," she said, her words spilling rapidly. "He got off at the same street. He turned up the hill when I did. He followed scarcely half a block behind me all the way home. When I went into the house, he waited across the street for a long time before he went away."

"Strange, all right. That was this afternoon?"

"About four o'clock. Then, just before dinner, the telephone rang and it was for me. A very strange voice that just said if I wanted to see Hajami, I must go to 4581 Farris street at nine o'clock."

"Oh, Liu. You didn't go!" Stephanie gasped, horrified.

The girl nodded. "I knew it was foolish. But I thought perhaps it really was a friend of Hajami's and that perhaps I could help him."

"Go on. What happened?"

The girl drew a long, sobbing breath. "I was there a little before nine. Of course I did not tell my family. They would have forbidden it. But, I had to go, Miss Stephanie. I had to."

The girl's eyes filled with tears and for a moment she fought for self-control.

Stephanie patted her hand gently. "Of course you did. Tell me what you found."

"I found that there was no such number. I became alarmed when I saw the same man—or someone who looked like the same man—standing in a doorway not far from me. I was not sure he saw me, but I did not dare to go home then. We live so far from the car line and the street is so dark, you know. So—I came here to my grandfather. Then, as I came up the hill, he was following me again!"

"He! Who?"

"That man. I know it was. I looked around just as he passed under a street light. I walked faster. So did he. When I began to run, he ran too. That's why I could not wait to go around to the back door. Miss Stephanie, why is he following me? I have done nothing! It it because of Hajami?"

Stephanie frowned, tried to think straight through the tangle of her emotions. "Probably. But—you're safe now. You stay here for the night."

But as she crept, shivering, back to her own room a little later, she wasn't so confident. Something sinister lurked in the garden around the old house.

Rev. and Mrs. Diller Honored at Prospect

Special to The Star

PROSPECT—The congregation of Zion Evangelical and Reformed church gave a farewell party Wednesday for Rev. and Mrs. Robert G. Diller who will leave May 1 to live in Alliance, where Rev. Diller has accepted a pastorate.

The program opened with a piano number by Dana Neutzel. Mrs. Robert Sechrist gave a reading. Talks were given by Rev. Paul Dobberstein of the Lutheran church, H. C. Secrest and Ernest Gast. Sunday school superintendent. Ed Griffith, played a drums solo accompanied by Mrs. E. F. Wotring. R. W. Herbster, on behalf of the congregation, presented Rev. and Mrs. Diller with an occasional chair. They responded with short talks. Instrumental music, contests and group singing followed the program. Refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mrs. C. P. Herr, Mrs. John Deeds, Mrs. Paul Roberts and Mrs. Hobart Lepard. Program arrangements were made by Mrs. Wilfred Knickel, Mrs. G. G. Neutzel and Miss Dorothy Horn.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Returned Missionary Gives Talk at Prospect

PROSPECT — Miss Eunice Stowell, a returned Missionary from French equatorial Africa, was the guest speaker when Mrs. G. G. Neutzel entertained the Dorcas Circle of the Evangelical and Reformed church Monday. Mrs. Ernest Gast, assisted by Mrs. Darwin Bell, conducted devotions. Miss Stowell's talk was illustrated with pictures. Mrs. Wilfred Knickel sang. The hostess son, Dana Neutzel, played accompaniments for group singing. Mrs. Carl Hetzner, Mrs. Robert Diller and Miss Dorothy Horn won contests. Mrs. C. P. Herr and Mrs. R. H. Stratton were guests.

10 Million To Be Affected This Year by Nation's New Manpower Program

That Is Prediction for Job Given Department Headed by Paul V. McNutt.

The problem of running Amer... industrial plants to get the ... war production at the least ... of materials, men and ... has been foremost since ... Harbor. Appointment of ... V. McNutt as manpower ... gives new impetus to this ... Frank L. Weller gives ... in three articles for Wide ... the background on which ... officials must base their ... North. The 40-Hour ...

By FRANK L. WELLER.

WASHINGTON, April 30 — ... effort of the war front is ... to cost American labor and ... industry a terrific price in per... and occupational readjust...

Paul V. McNutt, chairman of ... new war manpower commis... has orders from President ... Roosevelt to put men and women ... work, regardless of personal ... preference, wherever they may be ... most needed and most effective ... winning the war. His authority ... extends even to the question of ... deferment of vital war ... workers.

Major Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, ... selective service director, says this ... is going to affect at least 10,000,... persons before the end of the ... That number of men and ... women are to be added to the 5,... 000,000 now employed in war in... dustries, for a grand total of 15,... 000,000 in 1942.

Change Coming.

Management, he says, soon will be hiring workmen heretofore considered unemployable by a large section of American industry, and labor will be allocated on a supervised central plan such as proposed by the U. S. army during the last war rather than on free labor's traditional habit of working where and when it pleases.

Today this country is the only nation at war which still permits its people to refuse a war job, or to walk away from one at will regardless of the effect on national security. Much of this will change under the war manpower commission, but officials hope to avoid a "labor draft."

Hershey suggests that compulsion will be limited wherever possible by first discovering a person's potential war-work skill and offering him voluntary transfer, where necessary, to the job he can do best. He is counting heavily on the "psychological lift" among men and women who, proud that their country needs them, will work hard at the voluntary period of occupational readjustment.

Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the war production board, forecasts a period of stalwart effort by so-called "non-essential" industries to convert machines and material to war production. By May 31, he says, the whole face of American industry will have been changed—all sizable non-war construction and virtually all metal-using consumer goods manufacture will have been shut down for the duration of the war.

By July, says Vice President Wallace, the United States will lead the world in war production.

Women To Get Jobs.

This means, Hershey adds, that many employers, heretofore fussy about labor, soon will be obliged to call on classes they "once would not permit in their shops." They simply will have to overcome old prejudices against women workers, middle-aged men, race, color and physical defects of competent job applicants.

Meantime, officials are considering the voluntary registration of women for war work in localities where manpower shortages threaten. Secretary Perkins asserts that "by next year it will be necessary for us to mobilize women as well as men for factory work."

She predicted that by the end of the year 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 women will be in war work. Ten million women now are gainfully employed in America. There are 42,000,000 women between the ages of 18 and 65, and labor department experts believe that 10,000,000 housewives and single women could be drawn into war production.

Much of this depends on the magnitude of U. S. war operations. Present plans call for an army of about 4,000,000 this year, and some officials foresee an army of at least 8,000,000 men and a navy of 1,000,000 within the next two years.

Some place the American "labor potential" of men and women between 18 and 65 at 60,000,000 to 72,000,000 persons. Hershey prefers an estimate of 40,000,000 men and 20,000,000 women.

Shortly 39,000,000 men will be registered, theoritically for military or war-labor service. The first 9,000,000 will receive questionnaires listing 200 different occupations and asking the registrant which he is qualified best to perform. Those presently not required for military service are assumed automatically to take war jobs when called.

Draft deferment hereafter will be much harder to obtain. Almost 80 per cent of those in the first draft calls were deferred for minor disabilities, because of important jobs or because they had dependents.

Hereafter there will be only two key questions: (1) Are you now engaged in work supporting the war effort? and (2) Are you indispensible? Hershey lists seven occupations under the first question—munitions production, food production, transportation, communications, health, maintenance of these and, "to some degree," education.

Vice President Wallace makes the point that skilled labor will be needed on the battlefront as well as in the factories. "If you can repair a gun or tank in the field," he says, "and send it right back into service, each hour of your effort in the field will save us hundreds of hours of effort back in the United States."

At present, men between 20 and 45 inclusive are liable for armed service, those between 45 and 65 for emergency war-labor only, and boys 16 to 19 form a reserve pool for the armed forces.

Men Top List Of Marion Drivers in Traffic Accidents

Men, not women, are to be blamed for most of the traffic accidents, a report in the office of the city's safety-service department shows. Of 98 traffic mishaps in city during March, 70 involved men, while only 15 involved women. Sex was not stated in 11 cases.

The report also indicates ages of drivers figuring in crashes as follows:

Under 20 years of age, 11; 20-24, 12; 24-34, 15; 35-44, 15; 45-54, 13; 55-64, 7; 65-74, 6; over 75, none; not stated, 22.

Chief causes of accidents were listed as "not granting right of way to vehicle," 7; "following too closely," 7; and "improper passing," 6.

Favorite time for collisions is reported as 11 a. m. to 11:59 a. m., with 6, following closely by three other p. m. periods, from 3 to 9. No mishaps were reported during the periods of 1 a. m. to 1:59 a. m., 3 a. m. to 6:59 a. m., 6 a. m., to 9:59 a. m., noon to 12:59 a. m. and 10 p. m. to 10:59 p. m.

Twelve accidents occurred on Saturday, top day for mishaps, while Thursday listed the fewest, 4.

A switch to be placed between a mattress and bed spring, invented by a Philadelphia man utilizes the weight of a sleeping person to turn off a night light, the light being switched on when the person leaves the bed.

ORDINANCE NO. 4195

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE PARKING AND LOCATION OF AUTOMOBILE TRAILERS AND REGULATING THE LICENSING, LOCATION, ERECTION, MAINTENANCE AND CONDUCT OF AUTOMOBILE TRAILER CAMPS AND TOURIST CAMPS AND PROVIDING A PENALTY FOR THE VIOLATION THEREOF.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Marion, as follows:

SECTION I. DEFINITIONS.

Where as used in this ordinance, unless a different meaning appears from the context,

(a) An "automobile trailer," "Trailer Coach," or "trailer means any vehicle of structure so designed and constructed in such manner as will fit it to be used or is used or designed for use as a sleeping quarters for one or more persons or for the conduct of any business or profession, occupation or trade or for use as selling or advertising device, and so designed that it is or may be mounted on wheels and used as a conveyance on highways or city streets propelled or drawn by its own or other motive power, excepting a device used exclusively upon railroad rails or tracks.

(b) A "trailer camp" means any park, trailer court, camp, site, lot, parcel or tract of land designated, maintained or intended for the purpose of supplying a location or accommodations for any trailer coach or trailer coaches and upon which any trailer coach or trailer coaches are parked and shall include all buildings used or intended for use as part of the equipment thereof whether a charge is made for the use of the trailer camp and its facilities or not. "Trailer Camp" shall not include automobile or trailer sales lots on which unoccupied trailers are parked for purposes of inspection and sale.

(c) A "Tourist Camp" means any park, tourist park, tourist court, camp, court site, lot, parcel, or tract of land upon which one or more camp cottages or cabins are located and maintained for the accommodation of transients by the day, week, or month, whether a charge is made or not.

(d) A "Unit" means a section of ground in a trailer camp of not less than 30 square feet of unoccupied space in an area designated as the location for only one automobile and one trailer.

(e) A "cabin plot" means a section of ground not less than 30 feet by 40 feet in area upon which only one camp cottage or cabin is located.

(f) The word "person" shall be construed to include persons, partnership, firm, company corporation, tenant, owner, lessee or licensee, their agents, heirs or assigns.

SECTION II. ENFORCEMENT.

A Board of Investigators consisting of the Director of Health, the Chief of the Fire Department, the Chief of Police, is hereby created, with the Director of Health as chairman.

It is hereby made the duty of said Board to enforce all provisions of this ordinance as prescribed herein or such provisions as may hereafter be enacted, and for the purpose of securing such enforcement any of the above members of the Board or their duly authorized representatives, shall have the right and are hereby empowered to enter upon any premises on which any automobile trailers or camp cottages or cabins are located, or are about to be located, and inspect the same and all accommodations connected therewith at any reasonable time. The Board is further empowered to issue orders granting, renewing, and revoking such permits and licenses as are provided for in accordance with the provisions of this ordnance.

SECTION III. LOCATION OUTSIDE CAMPS.

(a) It shall be unlawful, within the limits of the City of Marion, for any person to park any trailer on any street, alley, or highway, or other public place, or on any tract of land owned by any person, occupied or unoccupied, within the City of Marion, except as provided in this ordinance.

(b) Emergency or temporary stopping or parking is permitted on any street, alley, or highway for not longer than one hour subject to any other and further prohibitions, regulations, or limitations imposed by the traffic and parking regulations or ordinances for that street, alley or highway.

(c) No person shall park or occupy any trailer on the premises of any occupied dwelling or on any lot which is not a part of the premises of any occupied dwelling either of which is situated outside an approved trailer camp; except the parking of only one unoccupied trailer in an accessory private garage building, or in a rear yard in any district, is permitted providing no living quarters shall be maintained or any business practiced in said trailer while such trailer is so parked or stored.

SECTION IV. PERMANENT OCCUPANCY.

Automobile trailers shall not be used as a permanent place of abode or as a permanent dwelling or for indefinite periods of time. Provided, that any such trailer properly connected with the city water supply and sanitary sewer systems, and constructed and located in compliance with all requirements of the building, plumbing, sanitary, health, zoning and electrical ordinances of the City of Marion, and not inhabited by a greater number of occupants than that for which it was designed may be permitted on any premises under permits properly secured as provided for in said building, plumbing, electrical, sanitary, health, and zoning ordinances.

SECTION V. LICENSE FOR TRAILER, OR TOURIST CAMP. APPLICATION THEREFOR AND ISSUANCE THEREOF.

(a) It shall be unlawful for any person to establish, operate or maintain, or permit to be established, operated or maintained upon any property owned or controlled by him a trailer camp or tourist camp or combination of the two within the limits of the City of Marion, without having first secured a license therefor and for each of them from the Board of Investigators, granted and existing in compliance with the terms of this ordinance. Such license shall expire one year from the date of issuance but may be renewed under the provisions of this ordinance for additional periods of one year.

(b) The application for such license or the renewal thereof shall be filed with the Chairman of the Board of Investigators and shall be accompanied by a fee of five dollars ($5.00) for each unit and cabin plot in the existing or proposed camp. The application for a license or a renewal thereof shall be made on printed forms furnished by the Board of Investigators and shall include the name and address of the owner in fee of the tract (if the fee is vested in some person other than the applicant, a duly certified statement of that person, that the applicant is authorized by him to construct or maintain the trailer or tourrist camp and make the application), and such a legal description of the premises upon which the trailer or tourist camp is or will be located as will readily identify and definitely locate the premises. The application shall be accompanied by four copies of the camp plan showing the following, either existing or as proposed: (1) The extent and area used for camp purposes; (2) Roadways and driveways; (3) Location of sites or units for trailer coaches or cabins; (4) Location and number of sanitary conveniences, including toilets, washrooms, laundries and utility rooms to be used by occupants of units or cabins in cases where cabins do not have all such facilities in proper conformance with city building, plumbing and other ordinances); (5) Method and plan of sewage disposal; (6) Method and plan of garbage removal; (7) Plan for water supply; (8) Plan for electrical lighting of units and cabins.

(c) Before such licence may be issued, there must be a favorable recommendation by a majority of the Planning Commission of the City of Marion, and the premises must be inspected and approved by each of the members of the Board of Investigators, or his duly authorized representative, as complying with all the provisions of this ordinance and all other applicable ordinances of the City of Marion.

(d) Licenses issued under the terms of this ordinance confer no right to erect any building or to do any plumbing work or to do any electrical work.

SECTION VI. ZONING OF TRAILER AND TOURIST CAMPS.

(a) No trailer or tourist camp shall be so located in any primary or secondary district.

(b) The Planning Commission of the City of Marion, may, in connection with the zoning law, recommend, and the Board of Investigators may issue a license for the location of a trailer camp in any district in which licenses are herein prohibited, after a public hearing is held upon such hearing said Board finds that denial of such license will cause unnecessary hardship on the applicant and finds in addition that the owners of all property within 200 yards of the proposed camp will not suffer unnecessary hardship by reason of the operation of the camp at the proposed location. The Board shall file its findings and conclusions in writing with the secretary of the Board and file a copy of all papers in any way connected at the hearing.

(c) No trailer or tourist camp shall be located within the limits of the City of Marion, unless approved water and sewage disposal and fire protection facilities are available.

(d) No occupied trailer or camp cottage or cabin cottage or cabin or other building shall be located within the city limits of the City of Marion within the recorded set back line for the zoning district in which such trailer or cabin is located nor less than ten feet from any other building or vehicle or the boundary line of the tract on which located.

SECTION VII. CAMP PLAN

(a) Every trailer or tourist camp shall be located on a well drained area and the premises shall be properly graded so as to prevent the accumulation of storm or other waters.

(b) Units and cabin plots shall be clearly designated and the camp so arranged that all units and cabin plots shall face or abut on a driveway of not less than sixteen feet in width, giving easy access from all units to a public street. Such driveways shall be paved and maintained in good condition having natural drainage into a city street catch basin, be well lighted at night and shall not be obstructed.

(c) No camp cottage or cabin shall be less than 288 square feet nor not less than 14 feet wide at its narrowest point, and not less than 6 feet high from floor to ceiling and shall not have less than 27 square feet of ventilating openings, and all windows must be fully screened. If the floor be of wood, it shall be raised not less than 12 inches above the ground level.

(d) The camp shall be so laid out that no unit or cabin shall be located farther than 200 feet from the toilets and service buildings provided for herein, and walkways to such buildings shall be paved and well lighted at night.

(e) Every trailer unit shall be furnished with an electric service outlet. Such outlet shall be equipped with an externally operated switch or fuse of not less than 30 Amperes capacity, and a heavy duty outlet receptacle.

SECTION VIII WATER SUPPLY

(a) An adequate supply of pure water, furnished through a pipe distribution system connected directly with the city water main, with supply faucets located not more than 200 feet from any trailer or cabin shall be furnished for drinking and domestic purposes or a properly dug and inspected well may be used.

(b) No common drinking vessels shall be permitted, nor shall any drinking water faucets be placed in any toilet room or water closet compartment.

(c) An abundant supply of hot water shall be provided at all times for bathing, washing, and laundry facilities.

SECTION IX. SERVICE BUILDING AND ACCOMMODATIONS.

(a) Every trailer or tourist camp shall have erected thereon at a distance not greater than 200 feet from any unit or cabin it is designed to serve, a suitable building for housing toilets, showers, and laundry facilities as required by this ordinance, such building to be known as the Service Building.

(b) There shall be provided separate toilet rooms for each sex. Flush or chemical toilet provided with an adequate water supply shall be enclosed in separate compartments having a minimum width of three feet, six inches and shall be provided for each sex in the ratio of one toilet for each eight units or cabins or fraction thereof. Every male toilet room shall have one urinal for each sixteen units or cabins, but in no case shall any male toilet be without one urinal. Toilet rooms shall contain lavatories with hot and cold water in the ratio of one lavatory to every two or less water closets.

(c) Separate bathing facilities for each sex shall be provided with one shower enclosed in a compartment at least four feet square for each eight units or cabins or fraction thereof. Each shower compartment shall be supplemented by an individual dressing compartment of at least twelve square feet.

(d) Laundry facilities shall be provided in the ratio of one double tray and one ironing board for each 10 units or cabins.

(e) The above accommodations shall be based on the total camp capacity according to accepted plans.

(f) Floors of toilets, showers, and laundry shall be of concrete, tile, or similar material impervious to water and easily cleaned and pitched to a floor drain.

SECTION X. WASTE AND GARBAGE DISPOSAL.

(a) All waste from showers, toilets, laundries, faucets and lavatories shall be wasted into a sewer system extended from and connected with the city sewer system, or into properly constructed tile drains.

(b) In no case shall any waste water be thrown or discharged upon the surface of the ground or disposed of by means other than as herein provided.

(c) Every unit shall be provided with a substantial fly tight metal garbage depository from which the contents shall be removed by the city garbage collection service.

SECTION XI. LIMITATION ON LENGTH OF STAY AND ON NUMBER OF OCCUPANTS

(a) It shall be unlawful for any person to remain or live in any trailer or tourist camp for more than ninety (90) days in each twelve month period, subject to the provisions of section 4 of this ordinance, except that upon a showing and proof that one or more occupants of a trailer or cabin are engaged in vital national defense work and that there exists in the community a shortage of adequate housing facilities, additional stays of sixty (60) days may be granted by the Board of Investigators, such additional sixty (60) day period upon a further and similar showing, Provided, that this time limitation shall not apply to the licensee of a trailer or tourist camp or his bona fide employees so as to prevent their remaining on the camp premises at all times.

(b) No trailer or cabin may be inhabited by a greater number of occupants than that for which it was designed.

SECTION XII. MANAGEMENT.

(a) In every trailer or tourist camp there shall be an office building in which shall be located the office of the person in charge of said camp. A copy of the camp license and of this ordinance shall be posted therein and the camp register shall at all times be kept in said office.

(b) It is hereby made the duty of the attendant or person in charge together with the licensee to:

1. Keep at all times a register of all guests (which shall be open at all times to inspection by State and Federal officers and officers of the City of Marion) showing for all guests:

a. Names and addresses.

b. Dates of entrance and departure.

c. License numbers of all trailers and towing or other automobiles.

d. States issuing such licenses.

e. Place of last previous stay and length of stay.

2. Maintain the camp in a clean, orderly and sanitary condition at all times.

3. See that the provisions of this ordinance are complied with and enforced and report promptly to the proper authorities any violations of this ordinance or any other violations of law which may come to his attention.

4. Report to the Director of Health all cases of persons or animals affected or suspected of being affected with any communicable disease.

5. Prevent the running loose of dogs, cats, or other animals or pets.

6. Maintain in convenient places, approved by the Fire Department hand fire extinguishers in the ratio of one to each eight units or cabins.

7. Collect the service charge provided for in section 12 of this ordinance, from the occupants of each unit in the camp and pay over the money so collected to the Treasurer of the City of Marion. A book shall be kept showing the receipts of the persons paying said service charges and the amount paid.

8. Prohibit the lighting of open fires on the premises.

9. Prohibit the use of any trailer or cabin by a greater number of occupants than that which it is designed to accommodate.

SECTION XIII. SERVICE AND INSPECTION CHARGE.

There is hereby imposed a service and inspection charge of five cents per day per unit on the occupant or occupants of each unit of trailer camps licensed hereunder. The licensee of the trailer camp shall collect this service charge for the City of Marion and pay it over to the City Treasurer in accordance with such reasonable regulations as the Treasurer may promulgate governing such payments.

SECTION XIV. APPLICABILITY OF PLUMBING, ELECTRICAL AND BUILDING ORDINANCES.

All plumbing, electrical, building and other work on or at any camp licensed under this ordinance shall be in accordance with the ordinances of the City of Marion regulating such work unless said ordinances are specifically made inapplicable under the terms of this ordinance.

SECTION XV. REVOCATION AND SUSPENSION.

(a) The Board of Investigators is hereby authorized to revoke any license issued pursuant to the terms of this ordinance if after due investigation they determine that the holder thereof has violated any of the provisions of this ordinance or that any trailer, trailer camp or tourist camp is being maintained in an unsanitary or unsafe manner or is a nuisance.

SECTION XVI. HEARING ON GRANTING, DENIAL, RENEWAL, OR REVOCATION OF LICENSE.

Any person aggrieved by an order of the Board of Investigators granting, denying, renewing, or revoking a license for a trailer camp or tourist camp, under this ordinance, may file a written request for a hearing before the Board within ten (10) days after issuance of such order. The Board shall give notice of a public hearing upon this request to be held not less than five (5) days after service of the notice on the person requesting the hearing. The Board may also give notice of the hearing to other persons directly interested in the order in question. At such hearing, the Board shall determine whether the granting, denial, renewal, or revocation of the license was in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, and shall issue a written finding of fact, conclusions of law and an order to carry out its findings and conclusions. These findings of fact, conclusions of law, and order shall be filed with the Secretary of the Board and served by the Board upon all parties appearing or represented at said hearing.

SECTION XVII. COUNCIL REVIEW.

Any order either granting, denying, renewing or revoking any license under the provisions of this ordinance may be appealed to the City Council in the same manner as appeals from any order under the building or zoning ordinances of the City of Marion. Appeals from such orders must be taken within 10 days after the order is issued. Upon any such appeal the findings of fact of the Board of Investigators, if supported by substantial evidence, shall be conclusive.

SECTION XVIII. PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION OF ORDINANCE.

Any person found guilty of violating any provision of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than five dollars and not more than fifty dollars ($50.00) and every day such violation exists shall constitute a separate offense and be punishable as such hereunder.

SECTION XIX. SEPARABILITY AND CONFLICT.

(a) If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, phrase or portion of this ordinance is, for any reason held invalid or unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, such portion shall be deemed a separate, distinct and independent provision and such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions thereof.

(b) All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent with or contrary hereto are hereby repealed, except, nothing in this ordinance shall be interpreted so as to conflict with the State Housing Laws, State legislation regulating trailers, trailer camps or tourist camps or any of the requirements of any ordinances of the city of Marion not mentioned or made inapplicable by the express terms of this ordinance.

SECTION XX. EFFECTIVE DATE

This ordinance shall take effect from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Robert H. Stief,
President of Council.

Passed: March 23, 1942.
Approved: March 25, 1942.
Russell C. Snare, Mayor
Attest: Lew W. Shadaker, Clerk.

CALLS FARMER AID GOOD INVESTMENT

Surpluses Now Ready for U.S. Defense Needs.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 30—(AP)—Clifford Townsend, director of agricultural defense relations, declared today experience gained through government assistance in time of peace enabled agriculture to enter the war period ready to make quick changes for enormous wartime production.

In an address prepared for delivery to the 30th annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Townsend said many people have asked why continued assistance to farmers was needed now that they were enjoying relatively more prosperity.

"I want to say that I believe this assistance has been a sound investment from the standpoint of national welfare in general," Townsend said, "and is continuing to be a good investment today.

"The conservation achievements of farmers have made it possible for them to give full support to our national war effort. If we are to meet the food production goals which have been established at record high levels for 1942—and if we are to meet requirements for succeeding years—we shall have to keep working for conservation.

"Because farmers had the means to hold crops off glutted markets, they had large stores of feed reserves built up in their over-normal granary, and were able to begin immediately their job of converting feed into pork, poultry, and other food products.

"Thus, agriculture entered the war period with its house in good order, ready to make quick changes for wartime production."

Townsend reported that from April, 1941, when farmers first were asked to expand production of certain foods, to the end of February, 1942, the nation has been able to deliver more than 2,000,000 tons of food to allied representatives for shipment.

DELAWARE COUPLE'S KIN ON TORPEDOED BOAT

Carl H. Adam Rescued; On Way to Egypt for Ambulance Duty.

DELAWARE, O., April 30 — Carl H. Adam, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. M. McCrosky of Delaware, has been reported safe and well after being rescued from a torpedoed ship, according to word received by his grandparents.

He and six other college men were enroute to Cairo, Egypt, to drive ambulances with the American Field Service for the British army in the middle east. Within three days after they sailed their ship was torpedoed and sunk. According to word received here the young men escaped in a lifeboat, were rescued and taken to an undisclosed port.

The ambulance service is a mercy service for which members receive no pay but are maintained by the British army.

Young Adam's mother, the former Cecil Belle McCrosky of Delaware, is the author of a book, "The Red of the Dawn," which was published a year ago. His father, Rev. Oscar M. Adam, is pastor of the University Methodist church at the University of Wisconsin in Madison.

War Savings Pageant in Cleveland Tonight

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 30—War pageantry will hit a peak in northern Ohio tonight when 75 floats, 50 bands and drum and bugle corps, and 10,000 marchers parade down Euclid avenue to public square.

Designed to create enthusiasm for purchasing war bonds and savings stamps, the parade of war machines will include floats carrying a rock drill actually drilling, a wing of an airplane on which a group of young women are riveting a turret lathe in full operation.

Gov. Bricker, Mayor Frank J. Lausche, Brig. Gen. Newell C. Bolton, Roy D. Moore, chairman of the War Savings Committee of Ohio, and a host of others will march at the front of 250 entries in the parade.

Dr. Z. B. Houghton Ending 38 Years As Dentist Here

DR. Z. B. HOUGHTON

Sells Business to Cincinnati Man; Will Move to Michigan in June.

Dr. Z. B. Houghton, Marion dentist for 38 years, today announced the sale of his business effective Friday, and plans to live at Central Lake, Mich., after the first of June.

His business at 119½ South Main street which he established in 1904, has been purchased by Dr. B. D. Flaugher, Cincinnati dentist, who will take over the office Friday. Mrs. Flaugher will join her husband soon.

Both Dr. Houghton and Dr. Flaugher are graduates of the Ohio College of Dental Surgery in Cincinnati, the former in 1901 and the latter in 1903.

Dr. Houghton began his career as a dentist in Paulding, O., in 1901 and came to Marion three years later.

He and Mrs. Houghton have sold their home at 561 Girard avenue but will continue to live there until they move to Central Lake, where they have a home.

Dr. Houghton, a member of the Central Ohio and state dental associations, was one of the first presidents of the Central Ohio organization.

A native of Union county and a graduate of the Richwood High school, Dr. Houghton abandoned a possible career in baseball to become a dentist.

A pitcher, he played with Richwood, Prospect and Marion teams before going to the Western league team in Columbus to pitch against such teams as Kansas City, Detroit and Indianapolis.

One of his baseball associations which grew to a warm friendship was with Robert "Bobby" Quinn, now president of the Boston Braves. Mr. Houghton was pitcher and Quinn was catcher on Marion's semi-pro baseball team back around the turn of the century.

One of the highlights of the team's history was a game here with the Cincinnati Reds when the Reds were on a post-season barnstorming tour.

ACT ON DEPENDENCY AS DEFERMENT CAUSE

Senator Suggests Change When New Bill Passes.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30—Senator Johnson (D-Colo) suggested today that "dependency as a cause of deferment" from military service might be eliminated by congressional approval of a measure now before the senate military committee.

Men with wives, children, parents or others to support would be able to join the fighting forces if the government assured them that their dependents would be provided for, the western senator explained.

Johnson said, however, that as chairman of the subcommittee in charge of the bill he would press for some sort of estimate on the cost to the government before trying to bring the measure up in the senate.

Witnesses from the war and navy departments testified yesterday that a number of men with dependents already were serving in the armed forces and indicated that many more probably would be drafted as soon as some system for aiding dependents was approved.

"This thing is a good deal more complicated than a lot of us expected," Johnson said, referring to conflicting testimony yesterday about a proposal to give the federal security agency authority to make supplementary grants in "hardship cases."

Under the pending measure, wives and children of men in the armed services would be given a preferred status as class A dependents, with $20 deducted monthly for their support from the pay of men in lower grades. To this the government would add $20 for the wife, making a total of $40 monthly, and $10 additional for each child. Thus a wife with three children would receive $70 a month, of which $20 would come from her husband's pay and the rest from the government.

Class B dependents would include parents, brothers, sisters, and grandchildren. If the enlisted man wanted to aid anyone in this class and had other dependents, he would add $5 to the $20 deducted for class A dependents. The government then would add $15 a month for one parent, $25 for two, and $5 for each additional brother, sister, grandchild or parent up to a maximum of $50 monthly for class B dependents.

Curacao "Force" Gives News of Camp Where Marion Troops Are Stationed

Marion families whose men are with the task force stationed in Curacao, Netherlands West Indies, will be interested in news from the island as contained in "Force", the one-sheet mimeographed daily publication of the troops.

Of particular interest is news of construction under way.

The March 12 issue states that "piles of lumber forming mountains of material in the area back of Force Headquarters and the nearing completion of the barracks at the air field point to the progress made in construction of the new camp."

According to the news account, tentative plans are for large wooden and steel barracks, 25x100 feet, to accommodate 48 men each, each company to have its own large day room, kitchen with two electric refrigerators, latrine-shower and a headquarters-supply building.

Plans Are Thorough

The camp will have a huge post exchange, outdoor theater, postoffice, two athletic fields, a large hospital group, radio station, motor repair shop and bakery, and two hard-surface roads will be built.

Each of the outlying units will have its own complete set-up, including kitchen and post exchange. The barracks will be screened and arranged so as to take full advantage of the winds for good circulation of air.

The March 20 issue has this statement for the benefit of parents and friends who send gifts to the soldiers:

"Our postoffice registers a complaint and asks for help. It seems that a considerable number of fond parents have been sending packages of fresh fruits and other spoilables to the soldiers. On arrival here the packages are in bad odor and not worthy even of a soldier's stomach. Postoffice staff hopes that soldiers fortunate in having doting parents will kindly pass on the information that perishables should not be sent them."

Company Wins Praise

The company made up largely of Marion men was cited at least six days in March for having the best kitchen in the camp and was listed on the paper's "honor roll."

The March 13 issue announced that "the postoffice declared today that with new arrangements and schedules available, out-going mail will now be dispatched every day instead of the previous two-times-a-week schedule."

There are four daily newspapers on the island, "Amigoe Di Curacao" and "Beurs & Nieuwsberichten," both Dutch, and "La Prensa" and "Boletin Comercial," both Spanish. According to "Force" the original inhabitants were the Cagnetios Indians. "When the Dutch captured the island in 1634 most of them (the Indians), and the Spanish who were here left for Coro, Venezuela. When the weather is clear the coast of Coro is visible from Curacao."

Street Misnamed

"The main street of Willemstad, one of the towns on the island, is Breedestraat (Broadway.) Commented the paper, "Odd, because the street is quite narrow and doesn't carry the slightest similarity to the Broadway of New York City."

Among the motion pictures the men were seeing in March were "Charlie Chan in Egypt," "Men with Wings," "Ball of Fire," "A Yank in the RAF," "Beau Geste," "The Quarterback," "The Little Foxes," "The Last Train from Madrid," "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," "Call Out the Marines," "Chad Hanna," "The Lady Eve," "French Without Tears," and "Dancing on a Dime."

The copies of "Force", sent by First Lieutenant C. C. Whysall to his wife, who lives at 119 Chicago avenue, include a troopship edition dated Feb. 9 and an embarkation edition dated the preceding day at New Orleans, La.

Church Group To Send Gifts to Soldiers

A contribution to the Lutheran "world action" campaign and sending gifts in June to men of the church in camp were voted Wednesday night at a meeting of the Young People's Missionary society in Emanuel Lutheran church. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Frey were hosts. Arrangements were discussed for a reception early in June for new members of the church. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Meister and Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Eberl were welcomed as members. Devotions were conducted by Rev. M. E. Hollensen and the study topic was presented by Mrs. Carl T. Campbell. Entertainment in charge of Clifford R. Leffler consisted of instrumental music by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Parker and son Willis.

Don't Tell Him

Excitement over British "Commando" raids doesn't bowl over the U. S. marine corps, particularly when it boils over in the enthusiastic suggestion that this country should organize some "Commandos," too.

The way U. S. marines see it, Britain's amphibious raiders are simply sea soldiers trained in the tricks of the British royal marines, the difference being that they are cashing in on special publicity.

The marines want it remembered that they know all there is to know about amphibious warfare, which is the science of landing expeditionary forces and preparing the way for regular soldiers. Since the U. S. marine corps was established in 1798, it has been called on to make an average of two such landings every year. Only improvement in recent years is mechanization—motor barges, planes for parachute troops, speed boats, etc.

The Japanese have demonstrated that they are skilled in marine tricks, though they haven't invented anything new. Their success in making numerous landings on Pacific islands shows they are familiar with the old stuff, however.

Formerly, the amphibious marines were known as the fleet mobile force, but the name didn't stick. Now there are two units: and the Pacific amphibious corps, and the acific amphibious corps. Unless you want to start something don't tell a leatherneck he is just like a "Commando."

Loss of Lashio Grave News for Allies in Burma

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

We have to face exceedingly bad news today from Burma in the further Japanese successes which have enabled them to get a foot squarely in China's back door and increase the already grave threat to Generalissimo Chiang-Kai-shek's fighting machine.

By cutting a bloody swath through to Lashio the Japs have secured the great supply depot that marks the beginning of the famous Burma road which has been China's lifeline to the outside world. Control of this entrance to the Burma road would be essential to any plan for moving Nipponese forces into China over this route.

The Japanese thurst to Lashio also places the defending allied forces in the Mandalay sector in a dangerous position, threatening them with envelopment.

The persistence of the Japanese in this major drive through Burma makes it clear that they are bent on completing their conquest of China as an integral part of their scheme for a new order in eastern Asia.

forbidding workers in many industries to leave under any circumstances. Thousands of workers have been reported toiling feverishly to develop a big naval base in Trondheim fjord, where the 33,000-ton Nazi battleship Tirpitz and other powerful German fleet units have taken shelter.

Reports that Hitler and Mussolini would meet in a few days stirred immediate speculation that the fuehrer was gravely disturbed by reports of internal strife and war-weariness in Italy.

Dispatches to the London Daily Mail said Fascists observed signs of revolt in Italy, while Bern reported that food was growing ever scarcer in the Italian kingdom.

On the Russian war front, Soviet dispatches said regiments of the German 5th division, described as one of Hitler's "spring offensive" divisions, were slashed to ribbons by the Red army 12 hours after they entered the front lines.

A Russian communique said the Red armies "wiped out about 1,000 enemy officers and men" in two days of fighting in the Smolensk zone, 200 miles west of Moscow.

Hitler's field headquarters acknowledged that Russian troops "succeeded in breaking through our positions" on the outskirts of a large locality, but declared they were thrown back by a counter-attack.

The city was not specifically identified but the Nazi high command said the Russians had been using strong tank forces in fighting around Orel, key Nazi base 200 miles south of Moscow.

must withdraw rapidly northward to escape being cut off and to guard the way to India, a well-informed source in London indicated today.

This source said the British on the west and the Chinese on the East would continue to defend Burma on two different fronts and might attempt to reunite by making desperate counter-attacks from the northwest and northeast.

The British, however, must pull out of their present positions below Mandalay, now vulnerable to a Japanese thrust from the northeast—the left rear.

Meanwhile, somewhat offsetting the grim turn of the Burma conflict, the allies rolled up slashing new aerial victories over the enemy in the Far Pacific.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported that allied airmen destroyed or damaged 20 Japanese planes and started big fires in an attack on the Japanese air base at Lae, New Guinea, and also battered anew at the enemy base at Koepang, on Dutch Timor island.

The assault was disclosed in an allied communique which also reported that Japanese planes had attacked Port Moresby, New Guinea, three times yesterday but had done only minor damage.

Reporting on the situation in the Philippines, allied headquarters said the Japanese had landed reinforcements from five transports at Parang on the west shore of Mindanao island—apparently in a determined effort to crush the small American and Filipino forces which still are maintaining gallant resistance there.

(The Tokyo radio reported today that Japanese forces had completed occupation of both Parang and Cotabato, a short distance south. The retreating defenders left both towns afire, the Japanese declared.)

Look How This Fellow Has Changed!

Wide World Features

Twenty-five years have done wonders for the American soldier. This year finds him in a snappier, more comfortable uniform, his head better protected, and his rifle more deadly than ever.

Some things haven't changed much. The Army pack is still much the same as in 1917, still weighs between 50 and 65 pounds. The cartridge belt is the same design, and so are the shoes.

Just as his fighting togs rank with the best in the world, the American soldier eats the finest army mess in the world.

His weekly ration will include generous amounts of beef, chicken and pork; seven eggs, more than nine pounds of vegetables, four pounds of potatoes, along with fruits, coffee, cereals and milk.

To keep the average soldier in fighting trim for the first year, the government spends $404.65, of which $175.20 goes for food, $182.05 for clothing, $15.79 for individual equipment and $51.61 for barracks equipment.

EMPLOYMENT OFFICE REGISTERS SENIORS

Lists To Be Made Available for Employers in Area.

Members of the graduating class at Harding High school and in other graduating classes throughout the Marion area will be given the assistance of the United States Employment service to find jobs for which they are best fitted, Fred Scherff, manager of the Marion office, said today.

Graduates will be registered by the employment service and on the basis of ratings supplied by their teachers and information obtained from the students by interviewers they will be classified in occupational groups for which they seem qualified.

Details of the registration and job placement program in the various high schools cooperating in the program have been worked out with faculty members and explained to senior classes, Mr. Scherff said. The registration of graduates is already under way and will continue through May 15.

When the registration of the job-seeking graduates is completed, the employment office will be able to refer the graduates to openings as soon as they have finished their schooling.

Employers in Marion and throughout Ohio have been informed of the high school registration program and are counting on this year's graduating classes for thousands of needed workers, Mr. Scherff said.

Fruits That Have That Certain Zing

STRAWBERRY DELIGHT PIE . . envelopes plain unflavored gelatin, 1-2 cup cold water, 1½ cups sliced strawberries, ¾ cup corn syrup, 2 tablespoons sugar, ¾ cup water, 1½ tablespoons lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1½ cups halved strawberries, egg whites, 2 tablespoons sugar. Soften gelatin 5 minutes in 1-2 cup cold water. Mix 1½ cups berries, corn syrup, honey and ¾ cup water. Simmer 4 minutes. Strain off juice and mash berries. Add gelatin, lemon juice and salt. Stir until dissolved. Divide into two parts and cool until mixture just begins to thicken. Pour half the chilled liquid over the halved berries which have been arranged in bottom of baked pie shell or crumb crust. Place in refrigerator. Whip remaining gelatin liquid until foamy and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites to which 2 tablespoons sugar have been added. Pour over fruit layer in crust and chill. Garnish top with fresh berries.

Go hearty on fruits and berries to put extra zip and color into your springtime meals. Here's how!

Prune Fruit Whip: Add ¼ teaspoon each cream of tartar and salt to 4 egg whites. Beat until stiff and stir in a pound seeded cooked prunes, 2/3 cup drained pineapple or cooked rhubarb, ¼ cup strained honey, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind and 1/3 cup broken nuts. Bake an hour in buttered baking dish in pan hot water in a slow oven (300). Serve warm or cold with cream or chilled custard sauce. This will serve 5 or 6.

Cherry Roll: Pat out rich biscuit dough (using 2 cups flour) until thin. Generously spread with butter and honey. Cover with ½ cup seeded cherries blended with 2 tablespoons flour, 4 tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon and ¼ teaspoon salt. Roll up the mixture and fit into buttered glass baking dish. Quickly spread with 1/3 cup honey, 3 tablespoons butter, ¼ teaspoon grated orange rind and ⅛ teaspoon cinnamon, heated together. Bake 50 minutes in moderate oven (350). Serve warm with cherry sauce. Other fruits or berries can replace the cherries. Serves 4 or 5.

Fruit Tapioca: Cook 20 minutes in double boiler, 2 cups milk, ⅓ cup tapioca, 1/3 cup sugar and ¼ teaspoon salt. Add 2 eggs, beaten, cook 2 minutes. Cool and fold in ½ cup each, chopped figs, apricots and pineapple and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Serve chilled with cream.

Strawberry Ring: Cook 3 minutes in double boiler, 3 cups cooked rice, 2 eggs, beaten, 1 cup milk, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, ½ cup raisins and 1 teaspoon grated orange rind. Pour into ring mold, buttered or rinsed in cold water. Chill several hours. Unmold, fill center and surround with fresh strawberries, slightly sweetened. Cover with whipped cream.

Fruity Squares: Simmer 5 minutes 1½ cups bread crumbs, 1 cup milk, 1/3 cup sugar, ½ teaspoon each cinnamon, cloves, salt and 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind. Add 4 tablespoons melted butter, 2 eggs, 2 cups fruit (cooked rhubarb, cherries, sliced apples, peaches, pears or berries) and 2 beaten egg whites. Pour into shallow, buttered pan. Bake 35 minutes in moderate oven (350). Cool a little, cut in squares and carefully transfer to serving plates. Top with fresh or canned fruit. Pass cream or chilled custard sauce.

Reports Show U.S. Progress in War Production Work

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 29—America built nearly 70 per cent more planes last month than it did in the month before Pearl Harbor—

Every requirement of coal for war production and civilian use has been met—

Electric utility companies already have added 3,000,000 kilowatts of generating power to their lines—

The construction industry, on some projects, has erected a building every 32 minutes—

One automobile company has completed an order for 31-ton tanks seven months ahead of time—

Now the American petroleum industry is making more 100 octane gasoline than all the rest of the world combined—

These were the encouraging reports made to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at its 30th annual meeting today. Necessarily limited by military secrecy, the prepared reports presented one of the most complete pictures of America's war production since the bugle sounded Dec. 8, 1941.

In a session entitled "total war—total production," representatives of the nine paramount war industries told what was being done to help win the war.

Officers Installed By Forest Lawn P.-T.A.

Mrs. Harold Bracy, president of the Marion Council P.-T. A., installed the following officers at a meeting of the Forest Lawn P.-T. A. Monday night:

Mrs. A. G. Baird, president; F. G. Layton, first vice president; Clark Fouts, second vice president; Mrs. J. M. Creager, secretary; David Morgan, treasurer.

Girl Scout Troop No. 4 conducted devotions. The Mothersingers, directed by Mrs. Warren Wise, sang "O Irish Hills," "Pale in the Amber West" and Brahm's "Lullaby." Wendell Thomas and E. Tom Berry gave an interesting illustrated talk on "In the Top of the Mountains," and Mary Lou Cornelius and Betty Ruth Baird entertained with songs and acrobatic dancing.

The first grade was awarded honors for having the largest number of parents present and the fifth grade received a cash award for having the largest number of fathers in attendance. Plans were made for a children's picnic in May.

Mothers of the first grade children were hostesses for a social hour.

Voting Places Set for Wheat Referendum Poll on Saturday

550 Eligible To Vote on Production Control Program; Polls Open from 8 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Approximately 550 farmers and farm land owners representing 156 farms in Marion county will be eligible to vote Saturday in the wheat referendum Cecil P Harper, Marion county AAA chairman, said today.

One poll will be open in each township from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Polls will be open in the township house in Big Island, Bowling Green, Green Camp, Prospect, Richland, Salt Rock, Scott, Tully and Waldo townships, Claridon township will vote in the council room at Caledonia. Grand Prairie township will vote at the Grand Prairie school. Marion township will vote in the court room in the county courthouse Montgomery township will vote in the Montgomery Grange hall at DeWitt and Pleasant township will vote at Pleasant school

Those Eligible

To be eligible to vote farmers must produce more than 15 acres of wheat The federal government in cooperation with the AAA has conducted research to determine the amount which must be produced to keep the nation's bins full The survey showed that present supplies would last two years without further production.

In order to keep farmers from producing unnecessary products which are not essential in America's war-time effort, the government established the market quota plan under which each farmer is allotted his "fair share of the national allotment" Marion county farmers were allotted a total of 21,048 acres for wheat this year in comparison with the usual 25,000 or more acres planted during years when restrictions were unnecessary A total of 55,000,000 acres will be planted in wheat this year in the United States, reports on file in Mr Harper's office show

Penalty Provision

Farmers who exceed their allotment or "fair share of the national total" will be required to pay a market board penalty or store the wheat. The penalty last year amounted to 49 cents per bushel.

Voting on a similar referendum last year, Marion county farmers rejected the proposal The measure failed to carry in Ohio but gained the necessary majority in the national poll.

Mr Harper said that on farms where wheat is being raised in excess of 15 acres and where tenants are living, both the tenant and the land owner will be eligible to vote

The Navy's Window Sticker

There is a MAN from this family IN THE NAVY

Marion families with relatives in the U. S. naval forces were told today that red, white and blue stickers, proclaiming "There is a man from this family in the navy," may be obtained now from C. F. Silber, navy recruiting officer, at the postoffice. All that is necessary to obtain one is some letter or other article which identifies the person seeking a sticker who has a relative in the navy.

Stickers, which are 7½ by 10 inches in size, are available for all qualified families in this naval recruiting area, which includes Marion, Hardin, Seneca, Wyandot and Hancock counties.

A reduced size copy of the sticker appears above

7 HEART DISEASES REPORTED CUREABLE

Harvard Professor Tells of New Developments.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 30—Seven types of heart disease are "cureable or reversible," Dr. Merrill C Sosman of Harvard university medical school told the Ohio State Medical association today.

Despite the prevalent notion that all heart ailments are incurable, he said, surgery or newer drugs can restore many patients to normal lives.

He urged greater use of modern diagnosis techniques to seek out patients who are cureable.

Dr. H. Worley Kendall of Dayton, director of Kettering Institute of Medical Research, reported cures of more than 200 patients with syphilis of the central nervous system by use of artificial fever therapy.

Col. Leonard G Rowntree, medical division chief of the federal selective service system, asserted yesterday that American health is not on the high level anticipated and urged cooperation of all physicians, dentists and public health services to improve the situation.

The association voted to oppose "any proposal for compulsory insurance of hospitalization or medical services' under the social security act.

Dr. C. C. Sherburne of Columbus was named president-elect of the association.

Veteran Wharton Postmaster Quits His Office Today

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, April 30—John A. Gatchell, Wharton postmaster for 26 years, will retire with the close of business today. It is his seventieth birthday.

Appointed by President Woodrow Wilson in 1914, he has been reappointed by Warren G. Harding, Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A graduate of Findlay college, Mr. Gatchell taught school in Wharton for 21 years, served two terms as mayor of Wharton, and two terms as justice of the peace previous to his appointment as postmaster.

His retirement will give him more time, he believes, for his hobbies, reading and gardening. A portion of his reading time each day is always devoted to the Bible which he has read through 68 times, not counting any reading of portions but only the times he has started "In the beginning" and continued straight through to the final word.

Harold Gibson, a former mayor of Wharton will serve as acting postmaster pending a new appointment.

OHIO FARMS AFTER NEW HOG RECORDS

37 Per Cent Gain in Two Years Is Goal.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 28 — Ohio farmers appear well on the way to setting records this year in hog marketing and income from porkers.

They produced a 21 per cent larger than average crop last year and then promised to boost that 17 per cent in 1942, starting off with a 5,000,000-head fall crop.

Lyle Barnes, Ohio State university rural economist, predicted today "the hog business will hold up pretty well."

The national hog crop last year was estimated at 83,000,000 head, only 2 per cent less than the 1939 record. The total may hit 87,000,000 this year.

Barnes cautioned Ohio farmers to plan to market their spring hog crop earlier next fall or late in the winter to avoid the November-through-January rush to the packing plants.

The possibility is that packing plants will be unable to process the unusually large intake of farm animals then, but the crop could be handled if spread out over a longer period than usual, Barnes explained.

Farmers are guaranteed a hog price of 85 per cent of parity but at the most recent parity price estimate—$11.63 a hundred pounds on March 15—actually received a market average of $12.80, the highest since 1926 at 111 per cent of parity, Barnes ... He attributed the high price of hogs on price ... 1. The seasonal drop in hog marketing ... January. 2. The active domestic demand for pork and hog products. 3. Heavy purchases of pork and lard by the government.

There seems little chance of a drop in hog prices in the coming months, Barnes declared.

SALES VOLUME UP

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 29—Independent Ohio retailers experienced an average gain of 15 per cent in dollar sales volume in March, compared to the corresponding 1941 month, Ohio State university's bureau of business research reported today.

Financial Report Read at Baptist Meeting

Liquidation of the church debt in the last year and prospect of an early payment of the $1,000 parsonage debt were revealed in the financial report given Tuesday night at the annual congregational meeting of the Emmanuel Baptist church.

Missionary reports showed a record year, according to Rev. Ernest Finkenbiner. Gifts were sent to the Hebrew Christian Mission, Inc., in Detroit, Rev. and Mrs. Harold Palmer, Baptist missionaries in the Philippine Islands, the Pocket Testament League of Ohio, the Lai-Kam Leper colony in China and the mountain missions in Tennessee.

Church officers elected for the new church year are as follows: H. F. Robinson, deacon; Mrs. Mary Hughes and Mrs. Bessie Davis, deaconesses; W. H. Chase and Wilbur Sutton, trustees; Mrs. Don Graham, clerk; Gerald Wesner, treasurer; Mrs. Clayton Morrison, financial secretary; William Grimes, financial secretary; Lee Patton, auditor; Mrs. Madge Curl, chorister; Charles Schaber and M. H. Chase, ushers and Mrs. Charles Pierce, pianist.

Sunday school officers elected are as follows: M. H. Chase, superintendent; Carl Finch, assistant superintendent; Mrs. Ines Rayland, secretary, Miss Evelyn Dopkeen, assistant secretary; Howard Hughes, treasurer, Mrs. Opal Miller, pianist and Miss Pauline Kidd, assistant pianist.

The total weight of explosive in Texas City ships launched each month equals that which could be carried by a few aircraft. It's clear [illegible] is the key position.

Double Main-Go Booked For Armory Mat Program Tonight

Promoter Les Fishbaugh To Meet Billy Venerable in Grudge Battle; Rufus Jones Returns.

Promoter Les Fishbaugh has arranged for tonight's weekly wrestling session at the Armory a group of matches which appear to be the best bets of his young spring card.

Sepia-skinned Rufus Jones, the New York terrorizer whose favorite trick is a "cranium cracker," will meet and attempt to break the winning streak of rough Nick Billings of Athens, Greece, in one-half of a double main-go show. Both fighters have showed definite offensive traits in all of their fights on the local pad, Billings with more success than his dusky opponent.

Jones has been absent from the local ring for several weeks, having last appeared here with the Black Panther, Toledo's dark-skinned fight demon. This pair lost a tag team match to Billy Rayburn and Steve Nenoff. Following the scrap Jones accused the Panther of failing to come to his aid when the scrap got out of control. His vociferous protests gained for him the disrespect of the mat followers here.

In the other half of the double bill Lefty Pacer, who has appeared here more often as a ring official than as a member of the grunt and groan fraternity, will tangle with slight Tony Ross of El Paso, Texas Ross, a junior heavyweight, is undefeated here in two appearances In his first local fight he fought to a draw with Joe Maish of Toronto, Ontario, Canada, and last week won a clean decision over Billy Venerable, the outspoken Texan Pacer teamed with Leo Jonsen here two weeks ago in losing a tag team match decision to Billy Venerable and Martino Angelo

Both main-go battles are for the best two out of three falls over a 60-minute route.

Promoter Fishbaugh has agreed to settle all grudge before the local ring followers in the 30-minute preliminary slated to start at 8.30 Accused of poor officiating in last week's card, Fishbaugh was verbally attacked following last week's fracases by Billy Venerable, The pair agreed to settle the dispute in the ring Should Venerable lose, and he is expected to have plenty of difficulty with Fishbaugh, a ring star in his own right, he will not receive any pay for his chore However, if he wins he will receive usual pay given fighters appearing in preliminary scraps

Successful Jones-Arcaro Duo Broken; Derby Wide Open

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — There is a little jingle you hear in these parts around Derby-time every now and then which goes something like this:

Just bet Arcaro and Jones, and you won't have to pay loans

Up to right now this has been a tip out of the horse's mouth, because whenever there has been a Kentucky Derby in which both Jockey Eddie Arcaro and Trainer Ben Jones figured, they have been hooked up as a duet, and it was just a case of hanging up the numbers There was no use running the race.

Four years ago, it was Lawrin Ben worked miracles on the big horse's ailing leg and Eddie pulled magic in the saddle And last year, Ben called in the Kentucky cool-head only two days before the big heat to handle Whirlaway Without even a formal introduction to the whacky whizz-bang, Eddie flew him home in the fastest Derby of all time

Now, for the first time, the hot team is split, because of contract circumstances, and the result is that not only are the boys in the know—other trainers and riders who are always high on this pair—somewhat bewildered, but even Ben and Eddie are a little undecided, too.

Of course, the split has no connection with their hesitation Eddie doesn't know just whether to take the mount on Devil Diver or Shut Out for Mrs Payne Whitney for whom he is a contract rider. And Ben hasn't quite been able to make up his mind whether to start Sun Again in the race, because the high-quartered husky, who was ailing most of the winter, had to be fired twice and hasn't been back in training long enough to be sharp for the mile and a quarter

And when you take a whirl through the stable colony off the back-stretch to find out how the boys feel about the run for the roses, you get nothing but figurative head-scratching all over the place

A trainer will say, "If it's close you gotta stick with Arcaro—' Then he'll switch to, "But if Ben's in there he's the one to watch" That's how they feel on the "inside' about the little Kentucky ace and the Missouri magician and of their record as a duet you have to feel the same way.

They've been very close for years. Jones says the swarthy little Newport Italian is "just about the best there is when the chips are down and the big stakes on the table" Eddie pays his respects the same way

But aside from the mutual admiration society, they really think a lot of each other. So one old race-track character knotted his forehead about the bust-up today, 'humphed' once or twice, and came up with this

"That Arcaro and Jones—there's no more sense splitting them than there'd be breaking up ham and eggs"

ST. MARY GRIDDERS TO TACKLE ALUMNI

Game Tomorrow at Harding Stadium.

Climaxing a month-long spring football practice, Coach Nick Padgen announced today his 1942 St Mary grid candidates would be matched against the graduating seniors in a regulation game tomorrow afternoon at 4 30 at Harding Stadium.

Coach Padgen has conducted daily workouts each day and during the 30-day period has introduced an entirely new system of play. The Saints have received about 50 plays, the majority are deceptive passes and fakes which require split-second timing in order to work effectively.

Jim Daum, retiring Irish captain, will again lead the alumni squad.

Lineups for both teams follow:

NAVY PHYSICIANS REJECT TRACK STAR

Board Rules MacMitchell Has Slow Heart.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK—Leslie MacMitchell, New York university's star distance runner, has revealed that he was rejected by an examining board of ten physicians when he applied for enlistment in the navy a month and a half ago in Washington, D C.

The examiners, who did not know of MacMitchell's reputation as perhaps the greatest miler in the country, decided that his heart action was too slow for navy requirements. His pulse beat was only 40 before he jumped off a chair six times and 32 afterward, whereas the navy regards the ideal figures as about 60 and 100, respectively.

Everything promises to be all right, however The navy has been advised that great distance runners have notoriously peculiar hearts, and MacMitchell expects to get a waiver and be in the service almost any day.

Red Rolfe Fears Big Leag Baseball Career Is Near E

Last of "Old" Yankees Fails To Respond to Tr ment for Colitis; Replaced by Gerald Priddy.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK—It's doubtful now that Red Rolfe, one of the last of the great "old" Yankees of the early 1930's, ever will come back to play a regular third base for the champions.

Red is putting up a patient battle against the intestinal disease that dragged him down last year and has kept him out of the lineup so far this season, but unless he shows decided improvement shortly he intends to retire from the game.

At this time the blue-eyed New Englander merely is reporting at the stadium when the Yanks are home, to read his mail and see his teammates and perhaps sit on the bench for a while in his street clothes. He is hopefully undergoing a new injection treatment

Mail Increases

"At least, this trouble has increased by mail," he said riffled a stack of letters locker room. "I think everybody with colitis has ten either to sympathize wit or to suggest a cure This treatment seems to be he and I hope I can start wo out again soon."

Even if he recovers comp Rolfe might have difficulty ning his old job back from Priddy The boy from K City who flopped so spectacu as a second baseman just a ago appears to have found true position at third fielding better than Manage McCarthy had hoped and has shown a marked improveme hitting

Rolfe was a shortstop who joined the Yankees from ark in 1934, and it was not

Indians Stretch Win Streak to 10 Games, Defeat Athletics 11 to 6

15 of 16 Clubs Call Upon Relief Hurlers; Reds Drop 10-Inning Duel

By The Associated Press

Relief pitchers get only fleeting attention from the fans and often little credit from their own clubs, yet they are the wheel horses who pull the biggest loads in the major leagues.

Yesterday 15 of the 16 teams had to call for help from the bull pen.

Beating the Philadelphia Athletics 11 to 6 yesterday gave the Tribe 10 straight, the longest streak of triumphs of any club in the short season.

The Indians also ran up their highest score of the season, including six tallies in the fourth frame for the largest total in any one inning. And the result put them a game and a half in front of Detroit.

Roy Weatherly led the 13-hit blast with a home run, a triple and a double.

Sid Hudson, although allowing only four hits, blew a four-run lead Washington gave him over the Chicago White Sox and was replaced by Bill Zuber in the ninth. Zuber pitched no-hit ball for 3 2/3 innings and the Senators got up steam again to win 10-4.

At Boston Yank Terry was within one batter of a shutout and suddenly lost control. He gave nine walks and two singles to let Detroit tie the Red Sox at 2-all. Team Mace Brown, who used to be a great relief specialist gave up two more singles and the Tigers won 4-2.

Galehouse Goes Route

The only pitcher to go the route was Dennis Galehouse of the St Louis Browns, who beat the New York Yankees again 11-6 to knock last year's world champions into third place in the American league. Galehouse allowed eight hits.

The Brooklyn Dodgers bagged their fifth straight victory in a 10 inning affair at Cincinnati. Ralph Camilli, gained the fans' spotlight by hitting his fourth home run of the year, and second in two days, after two were out in the ninth to force the game into overtime. Then the Dodgers bagged three runs on three hits off Bucky Walters to win in the tenth.

After Kirby Higbe gave way to a pinchhitter in the eighth, Newt Kimball and Johnny Allen paired in pitching three more innings for the Dodgers. Altogether the Reds made only four hits, one of them Frank McCormick's fourth homer of the season in the second inning.

McTechnic Names Derringer

Big Paul Derringer, past victim of hard luck, injuries, and personal grief, is the Cincinnati Reds' hope for salvaging one game from the Brooklyn Dodgers' series today and he should be due for a nice break. He is pitted against either rookie Chet Kehn or veteran Johnny Allen of the Brooks.

The Boston Braves crushed the Chicago Cubs 8-3 and all eyes were on Pete Reiser (Nanny) Fernandez, the rookie batting sensation, who got a homer, a double and two singles to extend his personal hitting streak to eight games. However, another rookie deserving praise was Johnny Sain, who took charge on the mound when Al Javery was knocked out in the fifth and allowed only one hit in the last 4 1/3 innings.

At Pittsburgh the Pirates as Luke Hamlin an early four-run lead over the Philadelphia Phils but neither he nor John Lanning could hold it. Finally rookie John Barrett singled in the tenth to drive in the run that won 7-6. Tip Sewell pitched no-hit ball for one inning.

The St Louis Cardinals blanked for eight innings drove Cal Hubbs off the mound with a three-run rally that tied the New York Giants in the ninth. Ace Adams came out of the bull pen for the eighth time in 15 games and put out the fire. The Cards sneaked a run across in the tenth and Adams allowed no hits to save the 4-3 margin.

he had been up two seasons that he settled down to play the hot corner exclusively. Through last year he had compiled a big league batting average of 293.

Though not considered one of the game's really great third basemen, the redhead nevertheless fully held up his end as the Yankees won five world championships from '36 through '41.

At 33, Red showed signs of slowing up last year even before the colitis began making each game he played an increasingly painful chore. World series time he was some 20 pounds underweight but he played out the five games it took to beat Brooklyn and hit a valuable 300. He looked like a ghost after the final game.

"He played through on sheer nerve," was Manager McCarthy's tribute.

That is the reason, perhaps, why the Yanks are happy to go along with Red now. Until he is convinced he can't conquer the malady and get back in playing shape, he will remain on the payroll, President Ed Barrow is authority for that.

ACUTE HOUSING CONDITION

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—The war's blackout of racing on the west coast is reflected in the increased demand for stall space at Churchill Downs. Two months before the Race of the Roses Track Superintendent Tom Young had requests for over 3,000 stalls, but only 1,500 stalls are available at the Downs. The result — Young told owners to bring with them only horses they planned to actually run at the Downs.

TRIMMING YOUR SCORE

Don't Try To "Add" Loft When Using Long Irons

By BYRON NELSON

Augusta Masters' Champion

The long irons—the 1, 2, 3 and 4—are extremely important to any golfer who wants to get around the course in the lowest possible score.

Many a good drive is wasted because the player fails to take full advantage of the long irons. Frequently a golfer who should score better will decide that it might be better to use a spoon and choose or underplay the second shot than to attempt it with a long iron.

That choice is basically wrong because it, the first place, any golfer is more accurate, or should be more accurate, with irons than with woods. It's also true that most efforts to play a shot with a light stroke end in disaster.

The common error that many players make with their long irons is in assuming that since the face of the club is straight it cannot give sufficient loft. This in turn leads the player to try to lift the ball himself by breaking his swing and lifting with his body.

Actually the club-head is built to lift the ball and it will do it if the player will keep his wrists cocked until he reaches the bottom of his swing, instead of starting to hit from the top of the swing. When a golfer fails to keep his left arm straight, or when he breaks his stroke to try to push the ball into the air, he is apt to get a "chop" stroke that will prove very unsatisfactory.

As a final suggestion, it's best to stand fairly close to the ball so that the club-head can follow the line of flight. If you're too far away, you may pull yourself off balance on the follow-through.

Bowling Tourney Nears End

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O. April 30—The American Bowling Congress tournament swung into its final two weeks today with the rest of the scheduled keglers given slight hope of displacing current top scorers.

The Chicago Budweiser's 3131 total for five-man teams set March 18 looks bigger with each passing day. John Stanley of Cleveland with 756 in the singles has the second highest individual score ever bowled in the ABC while the 1377 tallied by the doubles team of Ed Nowicki and George Baier of Milwaukee gains prestige daily.

The only leader who appears in a position to be surpassed is Tod Moskal of Saginaw, Mich., with 1973 in the all-events, a score which hasn't been good enough to win the event since 1934.

Deadlocked for high individual score yesterday were Charles Morrison of Detroit and Myron Reynolds of Robinson, Ill., with 661.

The first five leaders in each event remain undisplaced.

NEW YORK, April 30—The war may be tough on the minor leagues but apparently baseball will keep right on going . . . For example when the Class "C" Arizona-Texas league folded up, Tucson Ariz., organized an eight-club semi-pro circuit . . . The league includes two army teams and the ball park is practically on one of the posts, which should provide plenty of customers at ten cents a throw to men in uniform . . . And Michigan towns are replacing the Michigan State league with a non-professional loop that may take in twelve clubs.

Wrong Number—When Bron C Bacevich, coach at St. Bede's academy at Peru, Ill., read that Aquinas High school of Chicago had been admitted to the Illinois High School association, he wrote there suggesting a football game. He received this reply: "Dear Mr. Bacevich: we have 466 lovely young ladies at our Dominican High school. If you still are interested in a football game, please let me know.—Miss Elsie Bergman, coach."

Today's Guest Star — Kenneth Jones, Peoria, Ill., Journal Transcript: "There is some slight agitation to have Joe Louis try his hand against some southpaw pitching. Mello Bettina, the southpaw, being the chief agitator."

Give Boys a Send-off Sec. Stimson Urges

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 30—Secretary of War Stimson urged American communities today to give send-off demonstrations to men leaving home for army service "to show that we are proud of them."

Parades and other demonstrations afford an opportunity for the home town to show its pride and confidence in the men who are joining the army, Stimson said, and war department officials have noticed with regret that there have been fewer such demonstrations in this war than in the last.

Coke Oven Workers End Steel Strike

By The Associated Press

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 30—CIO coke oven employes returned to work at the Bethlehem Steel company's big plant here today, their two-day walkout ended under an arrangement calling for swift action by the war labor board on their demands for a wage increase.

The strikers unanimously approved the settlement last night at a mass meeting which followed a conference between the company and the union.

The coke oven workers are demanding a 12½ cents an hour increase in wages ranging upward from 72½ cents an hour.

Mrs. Clara McDonald Dies at Mt. Victory

Special to The Star

MT. VICTORY, O., April 30—Mrs. Clara McDonald, 88, widow of John McDonald and a lifelong resident of Mt. Victory, died this morning at her home after a short illness. She was the last charter member of the old Woman's Missionary society of the Methodist church. Surviving are five children, Mrs. Blanche Moninger, Mrs. Olen Williams and Mrs. Nellie Foreman of Mt. Victory, Guy of Galion and Miss Myrtle McDonald of New York City. The funeral will be conducted Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in the home, followed by burial in Hale cemetery.

Mothers Honored at Class Meeting

Mothers of the members were honored at a potluck supper and meeting of the Fidelis class of the First Evangelical and Reformed church Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Harold Jones of 133 Chicago avenue. In contests the awards were won by Mrs. William Kenyon and Mrs. Anna Zimmerman.

Mothers present included Mrs. Kenyon, Mrs. Lee Howison, Mrs. Frank L. Klingel, Mrs. Nona McPeek, Mrs. Mollie Click, Mrs. Zimmerman and Mrs. Harry Augenstein.

SOYBEAN PRICE DROP UNSETTLES WHEAT

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 30 — Wheat prices fluctuated nervously over a range of almost 2 cents today in a market unsettled by a 4-cent tumble in soybeans and losses of a cent in corn at one stage.

Wheat rose a cent early in the day, retreated to below the previous close later and then rallied again on buying attributed to previous short sellers and mills. Corn and bean prices established lows for the past several months.

Liquidation of May contracts, on which delivery can begin tomorrow, accounted for some selling in all pits and corn was depressed by extreme weakness of livestock values.

MARKET PATH ROUGH TODAY

But Enough Buying Power Shows To Push Leaders Up 2 Points.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 30 — The path to stock market recovery hardly was as smooth as in yesterday's session but enough buying power remained to push up leaders fractions to 2 or more points at the best.

American Telephone, which recently flopped to new lows since 1933, was in front of the day's selective procession.

Further support again was attributed to the belief the list was oversold, at least temporarily, even in the face of tax clouds and price-fixing doubts. Scant bullish inspiration was seen in the war news.

Among stocks, better performers included Du Pont, Chrysler, U. S. Steel and Montgomery Ward.

Inclined to lag occasionally were Republic Steel, American Smelting and Westinghouse.

The ability of American Telephone to erase a portion of its heavy losses after the slide, of the past few weeks was viewed in boardrooms as an encouraging omen. Most in Wall Street look for the company to reduce the $9 annual dividend, if mounting taxes and costs are not compensated by a permitted boost in rates, but the majority opinion was the cut, if eventually instituted, would await an actual drop in profits.

Medical Civilian Defense

The work of the medical boards for civilian defense seems to me to fall into three categories. First, there is the supply of civilian physicians for the ordinary normal needs of civilian medical practice; second, there are the two possibilities of an emergency among civilians, one due to an outbreak of an epidemic of infectious disease and the other due to injuries from bombing or a military attack.

The most pressing of these is the first. Although our complacency has had a number of jolts, the possibility of bombing or a military attack is still fairly remote, but with as many as from 40 to 50 per cent of freshman medical students being signed up for the Army or Navy service, it means that for eight years the number of physicians who enter civilian practice will be greatly reduced.

This will not be greatly helped even if the medical schools increase their output. The increased output will be needed for military and naval service. For some time, however, there will probably be no dislocation of normal medical attendants, and the procurement and assignment committees will allow the population to use its own family medical adviser as much as possible.

If we should have an emergency, however, undoubtedly a strict form of regulation will occur. For instance, if such a thing as the influenza epidemic which occurred in the last world War should arise, it would be wasteful for one physician in civilian practice to attend patients whose homes were five or six miles apart. A city or county would have to be divided up into regional districts and a physician assigned to each district so that he could make rounds as if he were in a large-spread-out hospital.

The same thing will occur in the event of bombing, sabotage or other military emergencies. Of course, with the possibility of a real military emergency, the work will probably be entirely in the hands of the Army Medical Corps.

All these things can very easily be arranged or planned for some time in advance, but simple as it seems, there is a notable dilatoriness about the completion of arrangements. In the first place, as in every other department of public or political life, we have entirely too many agencies set up.

As I write these words, the situation in the Middle Western cities is in a completely disorganized condition. It isn't exactly that we have chaos, but that we have nothing whatever. Perhaps by the time this article is published, something definite will have happened. The possibility of an epidemic, while much more likely than that of bombing raids, is also quite remote. We seem to have been lucky in that we have run into a period in which all contagious diseases are on the down grade. There has been very little contagious disease so far in the Army.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

Madre, Awaiting Phone Call, Arranges To Have Trooper Who Writes Shorthand Go with Gangsters.

"THAT WILL be splendid," I told the captain. "Then I shan't feel that I am keeping you."

He turned back to the telephone.

"Listen, Sadie," he said. "When you get that information together you call back this number. Mrs. Graham will answer the telephone, and it's okay to give her all the stuff. She's government. I'm really getting it for her. What's that? Ah, foxy girl! All right? She'll talk to you."

He handed me the receiver, an indulgent grin twitching the corners of his extremely good-looking mouth.

"Sadie's all right," he said, "although a bit on the cautious side. She'll spill everything she finds out to you when she gets it. But she wants to hear your voice now while I'm here."

He spoke into the mouthpiece again.

"Miss Sadie, Mrs. Graham wishes to meet you," he said, with a laughing burlesque of formality.

"I am so glad to meet you, or rather, hear you," I told her with a little laugh.

"And I you," she returned in the crisp, efficient voice I had noted when I called her for the captain. "I will call you just as soon as I get the information you wish."

"She will get me everything she can," I said.

"That you can bank on," he said. "And now, if you'll excuse me, I'll get back. Is there anything I can do for you?"

"Not a thing," I said, "except what you just promised me—the number that gangster wants to bribe your man to call, and the message he gives him."

"You'll have 'em both as soon as we get 'em, also the money he forks over," he said.

Gangster's Money a Problem

"But I don't want to take care of the money," I protested. "Couldn't you put it in your police fund or something?"

"Not a chance," he said. "We'll keep our noses clean, even with gangsters."

"But we can't give it back; not for a time," I said. "We want the man to think that his message has been delivered."

"I am afraid that will be your headache," he said with smiling firmness.

"Just one thing more," I said. "You see I'm claiming a women's privilege to change her mind. But you said you were sending one of your men down with the car of gangsters. Could you possibly spare the one who knows shorthand?"

He threw up his hand in a sort of involuntary salute.

"You know some of the answers yourself," he commented. "Yes, that can be arranged—and he has the keenest ears on the force."

"Splendid," I told him. And now, really, I want nothing more."

The door closed behind him, but I first took a moment's rest by sinking into the big arm chair after tucking away in my purse the telephone memorandum of the unlisted private line at the Lansfield.

Then, resolutely putting everything else out of my mind until I should have more time to marshal all my facts together, I took out the carved ivory cube which I had found in the secret floor compartment, and with shaking fingers held it up to the light.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, May 1

A very interesting and stimulating day may be read from the mutual as well as lunar aspects of the creative planets. There may be a strong urge to attempt the unusual, unique or revolutionary in not only the sciences but in varied expressions of the arts, drama and literature. The emotional, progressive and constructive abilities may be heightened, with a desire to excel and depart from old traditionary or accepted styles. Also there are auguries of unexpected support, gifts, or bequests to carry on such advanced aspirations.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of unusual pleasures, adventures and progressive satisfactions during the year, especially through the pursuit of high ideals or visions of innovations, fresh attainments or creations in art, literature, drama, music or some form of unique expression in inventions, science or advanced thought or research. There is promise of funds, gifts or bequests for furthering such ideas. The private emotional life may be most gratifying and prosperous.

A child born on this day should possess several phases of advanced creative skill and vision in divers forms of art, drama, literature, and its trend should be toward the unconventional and unique in business and science as well. It may enjoy gifts, inheritance or appreciative funds for developing novel ideas.

Operating on any standard household current, an electric sharpener for cutlery has been invented.
